TAFT'S STATE GIVES OVATION TO MR. BRYAN

CHEERS FOR DEMOCRACY SOUNDED ON EVERY SIDE

In Militant Style the Democratic Candidate Went After Judge Taft in His Own State, and Crowds Seemed to Like the Fun.

Cleveland, Ohio, October 30.—Heaping denunciation upon the heads of John D. Reckefeller, Andrew Carnegie, President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, because, he charged, of their connection or sympathy with the trusts, William J. Bryan, in this city tonight, brought to a close another strenuous day of campaigning. The principal meeting was held in the big Central armory, while a second audience was addressed at Gray's armory. Later, the candidate spoke to the street crowds from the balcony of the Hollenden hotel. The arrival of the candidate at the armory was heralded by a great throng outside, and their cheers were taken up by those on the inside, who broke out into a frenzy of applause when he made his appearance on the platform. Mr. Bryan, apparently, was at his best, his voice carrying to every corner of the building, and he spoke with a vigor and earnestness that betrayed not the trying ordeal of the campaign which he has conducted.

Discussed the Platform.

Launching at once into the issues of the campaign, the democratic candidate discussed the democratic platform, laying great stress on the planks relating to the guaranteeing of bank deposits, publicity of campaign contributions, and the trusts. The two latter topics furnished him themes for his attacks on the financiers, the president, and Mr. Taft. The Standard Oil Company and the steel trust, through Messrs. Rockefeller and Carnegie, were credited with furnishing the funds for the republican campaign, and Mr. Bryan also gave his views regarding the declarations of the two financiers, that they were supporting the republican candidate. He also emphasized the labor planks of the Denver platform, and made an appeal for the laboring men to stand together and support the national democratic ticket if they expected the remedial legislation they desired.

Not content with his strictures upon those named, Mr. Bryan had something to say about Secretary Root, who is credited with having stated that Mr. Bryan's election would be a menace to the country.

Attack on Mr. Root.

"I see Mr. Root has made an argument against the election of senators by the people," he remarked. "I am not surprised. No man in public life has more reason to fear an election at which the people vote.

"He also thinks my election would be a menace to the country. That is not surprising. He began his legal career with a defense of Boss Tweed, and he has been so intimately associated with the big law-breakers ever since that he would naturally resent the democratic idea of enforcing the law impartially against all offenders."

Republican Testimony.

Sandusky, Ohio, October 30.—William J. Bryan drew an immense crowd here today. He took for his text "Republican Testimony," and declared that he could prove the correctness of nearly all of the propositions set forth in the democratic platform by republican testimony, and he gave the following as samples:

"We favor an income tax; the republican platform is silent on the subject, but President Roosevelt says that an income tax is just.

"We favor the election of senators by the people; the republican platform is silent on the subject, but Mr. Taft says that he is personally inclined to favor the proposition.

"We are in favor of publicity as to campaign contributions; the republican platform is silent on the subect, but Mr. Taft and President Roosevelt have both indorsed the idea of publicity, although they do not want the publication made until after the election.

"We are in favor of railroad regulation, and the president and Mr. Taft have both indorsed this, although their platform is not as specific as ours.

Amend Anti-Trust Law.

"We favor the amendment of the anti-trust law so as to exclude labor organizations. This is now opposed by the republican leaders and by Mr. Taft, and the very amendment which we asked was proposed by the democrats in a republican congress five years ago, and the vote upon it stood 260 for it to 8 against it.

"We are in favor of trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt. The republican party is opposed to this now, and Both Democrats and Republicans Make Confident Claims.

NEW YORK ON BOTH LISTS

Republican National Chairman Hitchcock Says His Party Will Have Margin of 69—Statement Made by John Tomlinson for Democrats.

Chicago, October 30.—(Special.)—"The democratic campaign clubs in the contested states have made estimates of the presidential vote," said John W. Tomlinson, chairman of the organization committee of the democratic national committee, "showing in a large number of republican precincts a democratic majority. These estimates and reports justify the belief that the following states can be counted on as certain for Bryan:

"Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 9; Florida, 5; Georgia, 13; Louisiana, 9; Mississippi, 10; North Carolina, 12; Oklahoma, 7; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 18; Virginia, 12; Kentucky, 13; Missouri, 12; Indiana, 15; Ohio, 23; Idaho, 3; Nebraska 8; Maryland, 8; Montana, 3; New York, 39; Nevada, 3; Colorado, 5; South Dakota, 4; Kansas, 10; Connecticut, 7; New Jersey, 12; Delaware, 3; West Virginia, 7; Wisconsin, 13; Iowa, 13; Illinois, 27; Rhode Island, 4; Utah, 3; Oregon, 4; Washington, 5; California, 10. Total, 387.

"Chairman Hitchcock, in his estimate," continued Mr. Tomlinson, "only gave the democrats 127 electoral votes. We are sorry that we cannot be so liberal with the republicans."

325 for William Taft.

New York, October 30.—In his forecast of the composition of the electoral college, which will choose the next president and vice president of the United States, made public at republican headquarters today, National Chairman Hitchcock claims 325 republican members, or 83 more than will be required to elect their candidate.

For the republican ticket, Mr. Hitchcock is sure of New York, Ohio and Indiana. He also includes in the republican column Nebraska, Montana, Maryland and Nevada. In explaining his list, Mr. Hitchcock said that he believed the chances were even in Kentucky and Missouri, with their thirteen and eighteen votes, respectively. If, by any chance, any of the states claimed should go democratic, he said, they would be Maryland, Montana and Nevada, with a total of 14 votes. This would leave a republican margin of 69, and of this advantage he expressed himself as perfectly confident. The national chairman does not include Tennessee and Oklahoma in his list, and concedes the chances in these states are against the republican ticket. His forecast, Mr. Hitchcock said, was based upon information received by him up tonight from party leaders throughout the United States.

The states claimed for Taft and Sherman, with their electoral votes, follow:

California, 10; Colorado, 5; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Idaho, 3; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 16 Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 11; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 8; Nevada, 3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 12; New York, 39; North Dakota, 4; Ohio, 23; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 34; Rhode Island, 4; South Dakota, 4; Utah, 3; Vermont, 4; Washington, 5; West Virginia 7; Wisconsin, 13; Wyoming, 3. Total, 325.

FOREIGN DRIVERS ARRIVE.

Will Take Part in Grand Prize Auto Race at Savannah.

New York, October 30.—Five of the foreign drivers who are to take part in the international grand prize race of the Automobile Club of America, to be held at Savannah, on November 26, arrived tonight on the French liner La Lorraine.

The driving contingent included Nazzaro, Wagner, Hautvast, Rigal and Duray. Nazzaro, who is acclaimed in automobiling circles as one of the greatest automobile helmsmen in the world, has brought with him the car in which he won the Florio cup in Italy a few months ago. It was this race that he established the phenomenal record of 74 1-4 miles an hour for 325 miles. The car which he drove on that occasion is entered in the Savannah races. Wagner is only second to Nazzaro in reputation, and is remembered here as the winner of the 1906 Vanderbile race. The others are veterans in the field of automobile racing.

All five will leave for Savannah early next week to familiarize themselves with the course.

NEGRO WAS SHOT TO DEATH.

Was Accused of Writing Insulting Note to Young Girl.

Birmingham, Ala., October 30.—John Proby, a negro, was shot and killed by Estes Sherill, son of one of the wealthiest and best known farmers, 12 miles from Tuscumbia, Ala., in Colbert county.

The negro is said to have written an insulting note to Sherill's sister, and was taken in charge and was being escorted to Cherokee to be turned over to an officer, when he pulled a knife and showed fight. Sherill shot the negro to death. The boy and his father both surrendered, but were released, the killing being declared justifiable.

TAFT IS USING SLEDGE HAMMER ON SAM GOMPERS

Republican Candidate Greeted by Large Audiences in Buffalo.

TAFT SPENDS PART OF DAY BEGGING FOR LABOR VOTE

Republican Candidate Denounces Attempt of Mr. Gompers to Give Bryan the Labor Vote as Act of Political Effrontery.

Buffalo, N. Y., October 30.—Sledge-hammer blows at the Gompers-Bryan labor legislation plank were delivered here tonight by Judge Taft before two immense audiences. Mr. Taft gave the names of many labor leaders high in the councils of the American Federation of Labor who, he said, were leaving Mr. Gompers.

"The attempt of Mr. Gompers," he declared with great force, "to deliver the labor vote of this country is as audacious an act of political effrontery as has ever occurred in the history of politics. It is most reassuring to note that the men associated with Mr. Gompers in the executive council of the American Federation of Labor are falling away from him in this effort of his to make the federation a political factor.

Not All Follow Him.

"The men who decline to follow him are John Mitchell; James Duncan, first vice president of the American Federation of Labor; Daniel Keefe, the head of the Longshoremen's Union; W. D. Ryan, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers; A. L. Faulkner, president of the Windowglass Workers of America; Claude Worth, secretary-treasurer of the International Dredge Workers; Charles McCarthy, grand president of the Tug Firemen and Linemen's Association; W. E. Fuller, Elevator Employees; T. J. Dolan, international Steamshovel and Dredgemen, and hany others high in the councils of labor associations.

"It is a struggle for political existence on the part of Mr. Gompers and he is willing to resort to every extreme method possible to secure success."

After asserting that the protective system was decidedly the most important consideration for the American workmen, Mr. Taft added:

"Mr. Gompers, however, has so committed himself on one subject with reference to labor, that he is willing to sacrifice every other consideration, however important and material to the welfare of the wage earners. He is willing to have a return of the conditions that existed in 1896, so eloquently described by him at that time, if only he can secure what he regards as the tions. He proposes to abolish injunctions. He proposes to aolish injunctions in industrial disputes where the injunction is issued to protect the business of a person whose business is injured by the lawless acts of workingmen, and this by statute. He also proposes to legalize the secondary boycott, although many trades unions have definitely renounced the use of the secondary boycott as an instrumentality in industrial disputes, which is unrepublican, un-American and which is certain to react upon the users as a boomerang with disastrous effect.

"President Roosevelt, in a letter, has inquired of Mr. Bryan whether the democratic platform is to be taken as favoring this plan of Mr. Gompers, which Mr. Gompers asserts to be the fact, saying that it was agreed between Mr. Gompers and Mr. Bryan that what the labor interests had been demanding from congress should be a part of the democratic platform. Mr. Bryan has refused to answer Mr. Roosevelt's questions, and therefore we may take it he is committed to Mr. Gompers' program."

After expressing the belief that the legislation which Mr. Gompers proposed would be unconstitutional, Judge Taft concluded:

Charges Are Unfounded.

"The charge that I ever sentenced a man without a full hearing is altogether unfounded and false, and it is one of those slanders circulated, too, at the end of the campaign, for the purpose of awakening the prejudices of ignorant or uninformed persons.

"I wish here to say that no matter what labor may do under the pernicious influence of Mr. Samuel Gompers and those associated with him in this campaign, if I am successful, the political position of labor organizations will not determine me in the slightest from doing what I can to aid proper labor legislation in the future, and will not in any way diminish my constant interest in the securing to those who earn their livelihood in the sweat of their brow as near an equal opportunity for progress toward better things as human society can afford them. I am confident that many of the wage-earning class will support the republican ticket, because I know their in-

FOR $1,000,000 PAIRO IS SUING PRES. ATKINSON

Petitioner Claims He Is Entitled to Half the A., B. & A. Profits.

ALLEGES AN AGREEMENT WITH PRES. ATKINSON

Depositions were taken before Commissioner Parry yesterday afternoon in the suit of L. P. Pairo, of New York, against H. M. Atkinson, president of the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, to recover $1,000,000.

Some two years ago, Pairo, who is a civil engineer, instituted a suit against Atkinson for $100,000. He claimed that he was employed as a civil engineer for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad by the defendant. Out of the profits accrued from that road, Pairo states he was to receive one-half. He at first alleged Atkinson had made $200,000 profit out of the road. He subsequently amended his suit, saying Atkinson had made $2,000,000 profit, and he sued for one-half of that amount.

There were present at the taking of the deposition Commissioner Parry, Attorney Pettigrew and Guyt McLendon, for the plaintiff; Morris Brandon, for Atkinson; President Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company; H. M. Atkinson, president of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

The taking of Atkinson's deposition occupied all of the afternoon. He stated that the only dealings he ever had with Pairo was to employ him as a civil engineer on a salary of $250 per month, and denied that he had ever entered into an agreement to share profits with the plaintiff.

At the time the suit was entered it created quite a stir. The matter was never come to trial, but will probably be brought up some time next year.

DR. JOHN WHITE EXPLAINS CARD

What He Meant by "Semi-Graft in City System."

SYSTEM IS INDEFENSIBLE

Members of the Police Board Make Emphatic Denial of Report That They Are Personally Interested in Washington Viaduct Houses.

There were interesting developments yesterday in the fight now being made for the removal of the houses under the Washington street viaduct in the interests of the children of Atlanta. The inference drawn from the card of Bishop Nelson that the members of the police board were personally interested in keeping the houses where they are brought out emphatic denials from the commissioners. In explanation of certain parts of his first card to The Constitution on this subject, Dr. White contributed a second, which will be read with great interest because of its sensational features.

In explaining what he meant by his statement that it might be necessary to "open the whole question of vice-protection by the courts and the semi-graft in our city system," Dr. White makes the statement that "It is manifestly to the interest of the solicitor, the clerk and the sheriff to have just as many lewd houses in Atlanta as possible. The more there are, the more money for them. That sort of system is indefensible in principle and banal in result."

Dr. White Bares the System.

Dr. White bares the system under which the houses are allowed to remain open in Atlanta. He states that twice each year the solicitor in Judge Calhoun's court indicts the keepers of these houses, and that they come up and plead guilty and are assessed fines ranging from $150 to $350 a year each, and that they go from the court understanding that they are not to be bothered until the next semi-annual assessment is due. These fines are divided between the solicitor, the clerk and the sheriff, whose salaries are dependent on fines and fees.

"This is 'court protection,'" writes Dr. White; "this is a semi-graft system. That is what I meant. I know that this is a vicious system. I have nothing to say that holds the officers of Judge Calhoun's court responsible for it. They did not create it. I do not criticize them. But if they were not men of strict honor, and should we

EFFORT TO SIDESTEP ROCKEFELLER SUPPORT MADE BY REPUBLICANS

Washington, October 30.—The following official statement was issued from the white house tonight: "At the white house the announcement of Mr. Rockefeller, through the press agent of the Standard Oil Company, was regarded with some amusement, in view of what the administration has done to the Standard Oil Company, and of the bitter hatred borne by the Standard Oil Company to the administration. It is a perfectly palpable and obvious trick on the part of the Standard Oil people to try to damage Taft—a trick so palpable that it can deceive no one."

Says Bargain Was Made.

New York, October 30.—Democratic National Chairman Mack, after reading the statement issued tonight at the white house, where it was said some amusement was caused by the announcement of Mr. Rockefeller, in view of what the administration had done to the Standard Oil Company, said:

"The white house statement is its own answer. The bargain was made between Taft's managers and Mr. Rockefeller, and concerns the possible future administration of Mr. Taft, and not what the present administration has or has not done to the Standard Oil Company."

Replying to another printed article, in which it was charged that Mr. Rockefeller had been persuaded to indorse Taft at the instance of the democratic national committee, Mr. Mack said:

"The statement is ridiculous and absurd on the face of it, and has already been sufficiently answered by me."

SPECTATORS IN COURT SEARCHED AND DISARMED

Norfolk, Va., October 30.—Serious trouble was averted at the coroner's inquest at Holland, Va., today to inquire into the murder of Tyberius G. Jones, several days ago, as a result of an order to search all spectators in the court room for concealed weapons. Seven or eight persons were caught with pistols in the pockets and a score of guns were found on the floor and window sills, abandoned by owners to avoid arrest on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Samuel Hardy, one of the witnesses, was held by the jury on the charge of murder and he was arrested. Bail was denied him. It was testified that Hardy and Jones were enemies, as a result of the latter being a witness against Hardy's interest in a will contest case; that Hardy had made threats against Jones, and that at 8:30 o'clock on the night of the murder he left his store armed with pistols. The order to search the spectators was issued as a result of an attempt by J. B. Jones, of Norfolk, brother of the dead man, to assault Hardy while he was on the stand. Two concealed weapons were found on him.

ON "BOOKS AND BURGLARS" MARK TWAIN LECTURES

Reading, Conn., October 30.—Mark Twain yesterday addressed the local library association on "Books and Burglars." The fact that his house was robbed recently embittered his speech somewhat, for he talked this way:

"And speaking of burglars, let us not speak of them too harshly. Now, I have known so many burglars—not exactly known, but so many of them have come near me in my various dwelling places, that I am disposed to allow them credit for whatever good qualities they possess. Chief among these, and indeed the only one I just now think of, is their great care while doing business to avoid disturbing people's rest. Noiseless as they may be while at work, however, the effect of their visitation is to murder sleep later on.

"Now we are prepared for these visitors. All sorts of alarm devices have been put in the house and the ground for half a mile around it has been electrified. The burglar who steps within this danger zone will set loose a bedlam of sounds and spring into readiness for action our elaborate system of defenses. As for the fate of the trespasser, do not seek to know that. He will never be heard of more."

GUILTY PARTIES ARE NOW KNOWN

So Says Governor Patterson in a Statement.

THE PROOF IS NOW POSITIVE

Strong Statement Made by Governor Patterson Just Before His Departure for Union City—Special Grand Jury Investigating Night Rider Depredations.

Camp Nemo, Reelfoot Lake, Tenn., October 3.—"We know who fired the shot and who put the rope around Rankin's neck," said Governor Patterson in a statement this afternoon, just before his departure for Union City, where a special grand jury is investigating the night rider depredations in this section which culminated recently in the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin. The governor, in his statement, said:

"The proof which has thus far developed is positive as to the guilt of some of them under arrest, and implicates many others. This will all be presented to the court at the proper time, and a long step has been taken to discover and suppress lawlessness in this region. Conditions have been extremely bad, the night riders going from one lawless act to another until the culmination came with the murder of Captain Rankin and the attempted murder of Colonel Taylor. We know who fired the shot and who put the rope around Rankin's neck.

"The number of men actually at the killing was probably not more than ten, while some stood guard, and others held the horses. The whole number engaged in the undertaking did not exceed thirty-five. The inquiry will be further prosecuted, and the state will have ample evidence to convict."

It is learned that Frank Ferriner's confession was full and complete; that he says he was with the men who took Rankin and Taylor to the bank of the slough; that he told the name of the man who pulled the rope lifting the mob's victim into the air, and the name of the man who fired the first shot into Rankin's body. The confessions of Hogg and Morris are also said to be complete. Hogg, it is said, was one of the four men who guarded the horses near the scene of the murder, while Morris stood guard around the house when the leaders went in after Rankin and Taylor. The confessions of Ferriner, Hogg and Morris substantiate, it is said, that of Tid Burton, who is said to have spread the news among the night riders.

Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Union City, Tenn., October 30.—Rice A. Pierce, attorney for Will Watson and a number of others under arrest at Camp Nemo, in connection with night rider outrages, this afternoon sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Circuit Judge Joseph E. Jones, asking that an order be issued against Colonel W. C. Tatom, commanding the military operations in Reelfoot lake region, requiring him to bring the body of Watson into court and show cause why he should not be given his liberty. The petition alleges that Watson is illegally held and that Governor Patterson's action in calling out state troops is without authority and in violation of the constitution. The writ is made returnable before Judge Jones for Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

NIGHT RIDING WAS DENOUNCED

Statement Made by Pres. Barrett of Farmers' Union.

UNION WILL TAKE UP MATTER

Night Riders and Their Depredations Will Be Taken Up at Meeting of Farmers' Union at New Orleans November 11 and 12.

New Orleans, October 30.—Night riders and their depredations will be taken up at the meeting of the National Farmers' Union in New Orleans November 11 and 12.

"The price of cotton must go up," says President C. S. Barrett, of the union, in a statement given the Associated Press tonight, "but the union repudiates the insinuation that it in any manner countenances the deeds of night riders who may seek to shield themselves under our name.

"The National Farmers' Union utterly condemns such scoundrelism as the so-called night riding," says Mr. Barrett further. "The union has an economic fight to wage, but it must be done in the open and within the law. Should any of our members be discovered as night riders, we would be the first to turn them over to the law. We will deal with this at our forthcoming meeting at New Orleans, which, however, is primarily for the purpose of devising ways and means for getting a better price for our cotton.

"The Progressive Union and commercial interests of New Orleans have assured us they would rally to the support of the growers of the staple, and New Orleans has been chosen for the place of meeting on this account and because of its importance as a cotton market. We expect a large attendance of delegates, representing over 2,000,000 members in every state in the cotton belt."

TAFT IN CAHOOT WITH OIL TRUST, DECLARES MACK

Bryan Not Surprised That Rockefeller Has Declared Himself for Taft.

DECLARED THAT BIG FINE FIGURED IN THE DEAL

Statement by Head of Standard Oil Company That He Will Vote for Taft Brings Caustic Comment From Democratic Candidate and Chairman.

Chicago, October 30.—A dispatch to The Record-Herald from New York says:

John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil Company, gave out an interview today, telling why he intended to vote for Taft for president. He said:

"It seems to me at this time, when the question is put directly to any American citizen which candidate he will support for the presidency, he should be manly enough to answer it just as directly. I therefore say that I expect to cast my vote for William H. Taft.

"If for no other reason, I support Mr. Taft because, upon comparing him personally with Bryan, his chief opponent, I find the balance of fitness and temperament entirely on his side. The election of Mr. Taft, I believe, will make for law and order and stability of business. He is not a man, I judge, to adventure with rash experiments, or to impede a return to prosperity by advocating measures subversive of industrial progress.

"The question of candidates seems to me peculiarly a personal one in this campaign, as the leading orators on both sides have not succeeded in drawing partry lines, as based on platform, with any great clearness. I do, however, support the general republican position on the tariff and the currency. I have always been a republican.

"I feel the more impelled to answer this question because it cannot be said that the present administration has in any way favored the special interests to which my life has been devoted. That, however, does not excuse me from publishing my opinion and doing what I consider my duty as a citizen."

DEAL WITH STANDARD OIL CHARGED BY NORMAN MACK

New York, October 30.—Charges were made today by Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, that the declaration of John D. Rockefeller for Taft for president was the result of a deal between the republican national committee and the Standard Oil interests, whereby National Chairman Hitchcock received large contributions and Mr. Rockefeller received certain promises.

Mr. Mack said that undoubtedly the $29,000,000 fine of the Standard Oil Company would be fixed up in the event of Mr. Taft's election as a part of the bargain. Mr. Mack said:

"The Standard Oil Company has landed where everybody knew it would land. Mr. Rockefeller held back for a bargain and got what he wanted. His declaration for Taft is good for at least 100,000 votes in the doubtful states. I cannot speculate on the exact amount the republican national committee received from Mr. Rockefeller, but one can rest assured that they both received their price. Hitchcock receiving the money and Rockefeller the promises, which suggest the question whether Taft is with Rockefeller or with Roosevelt.

"We now have an oil trust and the steel trust lined up side by side working for Mr. Taft's candidacy. Mr. Carnegie's statement yesterday on his arrival from Europe that the election of Mr. Bryan would be a national tragedy is not only shocking, but should arouse the indignation of all fair-minded citizens of the country regardless of party affiliation. Mr. Carnegie, I am reliably informed, is not even a voter in this country. Mr. Carnegie has amassed a large fortune as the result, in part at least, of republican policies, special privileges and a robber tariff, which Mr. Bryan and every true democrat condemns as so odious and oppressive as to demand immediate reform. Hence the election of Mr. Bryan is denounced by Mr. Carnegie as a tragedy."

Chairman Mack declared that he had learned that the republican national committee had a campaign fund of $3,000,000 and that of this sum $2,000,000 was being used for purposes of coercion and bribery. The national chairman said further that $200,000 of the republican campaign fund had been sent into Indiana and that more than that sum had been sent into Ohio.

BRYAN NOT SURPRISED

AT ROCKEFELLER'S STAND

Napoleon, Ohio, October 30.—William J. Bryan, the democratic candidate for president, gave out a statement here today, commenting upon declarations of John D. Rockefeller, made in New York yesterday, that he would vote for William H. Taft. Mr. Bryan said he was not surprised at the declarations of Mr. Rockefeller, as the Standard Oil Company and the republican party have been so closely related, and many of their interests are identical.

Mr. Bryan's statement follows:

"The morning papers publish a statement from Mr. Rockefeller giving his reasons for supporting Mr. Taft. He says: 'If for no other reason, I support Mr. Taft because, on comparing him personally with Mr. Bryan, his chief opponent, I find the balance of fitness and temperament entirely on his side. The election of Mr. Taft will, I believe, make for law and order and stability of business. He is not a man inclined to rash experiments, or to impede a return of prosperity by advocating measures as subversive of industrial progress.'

"There are several things about this statement that deserve attention. The last clause says, 'If, for no other reason,' but there is already a reason.

"He is for Mr. Taft because Mr. Taft is for him. He is for Mr. Taft because Mr. Taft is in sympathy with the trusts. Mr. Taft has been making speeches for many weeks, and he has not yet dwelt upon the iniquities of the trusts or pointed out the injustice done to the American people by them. No wonder Mr. Rockefeller is for Mr. Taft.

"Again, Mr. Rockefeller says Mr. Taft's election will make for law and order. This is false. Mr. Rockefeller's corporation is the most notorious lawbreaker in the United States, and he is for Mr. Taft because he does not want the law enforced. If he thought that Mr. Taft would enforce the law against the Standard Oil Company and favored more stringent laws against the Standard Oil Company, as I do, he would not be for Mr. Taft. Mr. Rockefeller also says that Mr. Taft's election will make for stability of business. What kind of business? Stability in the trust business is what he means. He thinks that Mr. Taft's election will enable the trusts to get a tighter strangle grasp upon the American people and put their extortion upon a more permanent foundation. He says that Mr. Taft is not a man inclined to rash experiments. He might have omitted the word 'rash,' for Mr. Taft is not in favor of any kind of experiment in the way of remedial legislation. He does not propose remedies. He simply glories in the past, and wants to leave conditions as they are.

"Mr. Rockefeller says that Mr. Taft would not advocate measures subversive of industrial progress. But what is industrial progress? Is it industrial progress to allow one corporation to swallow up or bankrupt all of the other corporations and then hold the country at its mercy? Is it industrial progress to destroy competition and close the door of opportunity to the young men of the country? Is it industrial progress to destroy industrial independence and establish a despotism of monopoly?

"The democrats have reason to be grateful to Mr. Rockefeller for tearing the mask off the republican campaign and revealing the duplicity that has characterized it. Instead of openly attacking the side of monopoly the republican organization has kept up a pretense of reform, and Mr. Roosevelt rushed into the arena and allowed the charge that the trusts were opposed to Mr. Taft to stand. I challenged him to name one trust officer that was supporting me, and not being able to find an official, he named a St. Louis attorney, who, in one sense, represented the president of a branch of the Standard Oil Company.

"Mr. Roosevelt, in his eagerness to relieve the republican candidate of the odium of trusts support, accepted this as proof that the Standard Oil Company was supporting me. Now, Mr. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil Company, comes out openly in support of Mr. Taft, and gives reasons that lay bare the false pretense upon which the republican campaign has been conducted. If the republican party were honest it would announce that, having made arrangements with the trusts for the funds to finance the campaign, and having pledged the republican party to protect the trusts from punishment, it would release the rank and file of the republican party from further support of the republican ticket.

"The republican party cannot serve two masters. Its real master has now stepped forth and asserted his claim to the party's services. No republican need be deceived any longer as to the indissoluble bond that binds the republican organization to the predatory interests of the country. It will be noticed that this statement comes out too late to be used by the weekly newspapers or circulated among the masses, but in time to be used in the business centers to influence those business men who look to the big financiers for advice."

SOCIAL LEADER AT FINAL REST

Mrs. William Astor Dies of Heart Disease.

SHE ESTABLISHED THE "400"

In 1905 Mrs. Astor Let Down the Bars and Some 800 New Names Were Added to Her Visiting List—She Was 82 Years Old.

New York, October 30.—Mrs. William Astor, who for thirty years has been regarded as the social leader of New York, died tonight of heart disease at her home on Fifth avenue. For nearly four weeks Mrs. Astor, who was 82 years old, had been in a critical condition owing to the return of a heart affection. Despite her advancing years, Mrs. Astor continued to hold her social domination up to a year ago, when failing health compelled her to retire in comparative seclusion.

It was in the summer of 1907 that Mrs. Astor's friends learned of her ill-health. While she was abroad last year, her son, Colonel John Jacob Astor, made the announcement that their summer home at Newport would not be opened, and this led to the discovery that Mrs. Astor was in poor health. Word came later from Mrs. Astor, while she was in Paris, saying that she would open her Newport villa and that she would make the season there one of the gayest in years.

This promise was not fulfilled, however, for when Mrs. Astor returned from abroad she broke down in Boston and had to return to New York. She had remained at her home ever since.

The society functions given and presided over by Mrs. Astor have gone down in history as the most brilliant on record. It is said that the ballroom in the mansion on Fifth avenue would accommodate 1,000 people. It was Mrs. Astor who established the famous "400," her visiting list being confined to that number of names. In 1905, however, Mrs. Astor was said to have "let down the bars" when she invited 1,200 persons to one of the most memorable social events ever given in New York. Mrs. Astor received her guests at these gatherings seated in a high-backed chair beneath a portrait of herself, painted by Carolus Duran. The Astor jewels were worn by Mrs. Astor on these occasions. It is said the Astor emeralds are the finest in the world.

William Astor, who died in Paris in 1892, took little part in the social activities his wife enjoyed. Mrs. Astor, before her marriage, was Miss Caroline Schermerhorn, a daughter of Abraham Schermerhorn, a well-to-do merchant. She was married to William Astor on September 23, 1853. John Jacob Astor was their only son. There were four daughters, two of them, Mrs. Ogilvie Haig and Mrs. Orme Wilson, are now living. The eldest daughter, Miss Emily Astor, who married J. J. VanAlen, died some years ago, as did Miss Helen Astor, who married James Roosevelt-Roosevelt.

STRIKE MAY COME AT ROME.

Controversy Between Operatives and Rome Street Car Company.

Rome, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Unless a satisfactory agreement is reached by Saturday night or the early part of next week between the officials of the Rome Railway and Light Company and the operatives of the cars, thirty conductors and motormen will quit work and remain out until the street car company sees fit to yield to the operatives' demands. Ben Commons, of New Orleans, La., a member of the executive board of the international street railway men, arrived in Rome Thursday for the purpose of aiding in a settlement of the controversy existing between the men and the railroad company. The trouble between the men and the company began last July and unless it is speedily settled the strike will become a settled fact.

SHE WAS TIRED OF LIVING.

Body of Miss Thornbull Found With Wounds Through Breast.

Alexandria, La., October 30.—With a double-barrel shotgun lying nearby, and two ugly wounds through the breast, the body of Miss Minnie May Thornbull, a prominent young woman of Rapides parish, was found in a room at her home at Richmond today. By her side was a note, signed by her, saying she was tired of living a lonesome life.

Blank Check Was Lost.

Rome, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Max Pinchuck, proprietor of the Boston shoe store, is happy over the fact that he saved himself $356, but he says he did it by a close shave. Mr. Pinchuck signed his name to a blank check on the Exchange bank, and the check was lost. Mr. Pinchuck notified the bank not to honor any check of his signed on that date. It was not long before a man called at the Exchange bank with the check, and asked that it be cashed. It was made payable to J. L. Morgan and was for $356. The teller stepped out to notify Mr. Pinchuck, and when he returned Morgan had disappeared. The check was returned to Mr. Pinchuck, and a search is being made for the party who tried to defraud him.

Pickens Hotel Changes Hands.

Douglasville, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—The Perkins hotel, at this place, changed hands this week, when R. T. Pattison, of Albany, leased it for three years. This hotel is the oldest one here, and is known throughout this section of the state for the high standard which has been maintained. Mr. Pattison will make a great many improvements, and will endeavor to keep the hotel up to its high standard.

FOLLOWING A QUARREL OVER A NEgro woman, James Paron, a negro mail clerk of the Southern road, shot and seriously wounded another negro, Jessie Johnson, last night just before midnight. The shooting occurred at 241 West Hunter street. Paron made good his escape and was still at large up to an early hour this morning. Johnson was removed to the Grady hospital, where it was found that one bullet had entered his side, inflicting an ugly wound. Officers Hazlett and Long rushed to the scene of the conflict, but were unable to catch Paron.

ever get men in these offices too weak for the temptation we would see rottenness and corruption as the result. We have exactly the same system in Atlanta that created and maintained the graft of Tammany Hall and the corruption of New York. That is what I said needed ventilation."

Dr. White's Card.

Dr. White's card in full follows:

Editor Constitution: My statement in The Constitution with reference to the Washington street viaduct and the removal of objectionable houses contained no reflection on the personal characters of the police commissioners, as Mr. Woodside, Mr. Roberts, Mayor Joyner and Captain English have read into it. The opposition in the police board to the action of the grand jury which so readily manifested itself upon the publication of the grand jury's presentment was in my opinion unfortunate, but my reference to their opposition contained no suggestion that these gentlemen had any personal interest at stake or were actuated by improper motives. My statement was that opposition from the police commissioners to the removal of these houses might make it necessary "to open the whole question of vice—protection by the courts and the semi-graft of our city system."

The reference was to our courts and our system of dealing with public vice in Atlanta. These gentlemen are too well informed not to know what that meant. I am not sure, however, that the public knows what it means.

The state law plainly makes the maintenance of such places as infest the Washington street viaduct a misdemeanor. These places are maintained openly in violation of the law. Twice each year the solicitor in Judge Calhoun's court indicts the keepers of these houses. They come up in person or through an attorney and plead guilty and are assessed a fine. These fines are paid, amounting to $150 to $350 a year each. They go back understanding that they will not be disturbed in their vice traffic until the semi-annual assessment is due in Judge Calhoun's court. The fines are divided between the solicitor, the clerk and the sheriff, whose salaries are dependent on fines and fees.

This is "court protection;" this is a semi-graft system. That is what I meant. I know that this is a vicious system.

It is manifestly to the interest of the solicitor, the clerk and the sheriff to have just as many lewd houses in Atlanta as possible. The more there are, the more money for them. That sort of system is indefensible in principle and banal in result.

I have nothing to say that holds the officers of Judge Calhoun's court responsible for it. They did not create it. I do not criticize them. But if they were not men of strict honor, and should we ever get men in these offices too weak for the temptation, we would see rottenness and corruption as the result. We have exactly the same system in Atlanta that created and maintained the graft of Tammany Hall and the corruption of New York. That is what I said needed ventilation.

Here is what I cannot understand. I cannot understand why it is that whenever any movement to carry out the law against those at whom the law was specifically and intentionally directed and who are engaged in any sort of immorality, no matter how modestly and quietly the movement is proposed, as in the case of the Washington street viaduct matter, there is always such an impatient chorus of protest.

I cannot understand how such citizens as constitute our police commission can fail to see the case presented by the Girls' High school and the Boys' High school and by the parents whose rights are invaded and whose homes and children are involved and the glaring advertisement of Collins street vice to the world on account of the viaduct.

Would they take their present position if these houses were under the Whitehall or the Forsyth street viaducts? It is inconceivable. Then how can they be more indifferent to the importance of the peculiar claims which the chief educational institutions of Atlanta have upon their consideration—the claims to decent environment for the schools, the state capitol, the auditorium and three of the largest churches and Sunday schools of the city?

The question of what to do with these unfortunate people, whom in their funerals and sorrows I am constantly glad to minister and against whom I am no man to fling stones, is a question for the police board to take up after they have decided in favor of the schools and a perfectly apparent demand of public decency.

It is asked why we did not take up the matter with the police commission before going to the public.

We did. But we immediately discovered that the police board was not on our side of the proposition for reasons they have given. I think they are such reasons as cannot be maintained now, however good they were before the Washington street viaduct was erected. I think the police board ought to have moved in this matter; that they ought to have been keener than anybody else to see the nuisance and the injury that had been created by the viaduct, and that there ought to have been no controversy over a matter involving the good repute of a great central thoroughfare in the heart of the city—consecrated particularly to the educational conveniences of youth.

JOHN E. WHITE,
Second Baptist Church.

Denial by Commissioners.

Cards from Bishop C. K. Nelson, of the Protestant Episcopal church, and Dr. John E. White, of the Second Baptist church, in regard to the undesirable citizens living under the Washington street viaduct have brought from the members of the board of police commissioners statements denying any "personal interest or ownership" in the property under fire.

In his card Bishop Nelson made the following reference to the police board: "I do not know enough of the private affairs or property of the members of that board to affirm what is current talk as to ownership and consequent personal interest lying at the root of their opposition."

Dr. White paid his respects to the commissioners in the following paragraph: "The opposition of the police commissioners may lead us into the opening up of this whole question of vice-protection by the courts and the semi-graft of our city system. It is high time to ventilate it."

Chairman John J. Woodside declared that no man on the police board owned or was interested in a single foot of property in question. He further stated that this information could have been secured for the asking. He declared further that the police board had furnished the grand jury with the property owners and they had this knowledge in their possession when the recommendation was made.

Asked when the board would consider the matter, he stated they would do so at their next regular meeting, but would not forecast their action on the subject.

"To give you my personal opinion, however, I will say that if the public continues to clamor for a cleaning out there will be a cleaning out."

Chairman Woodside stated it had taken years to segregate these characters in a policed district and that if they were removed, they would scatter and cause no end of trouble.

Mayor W. R. Joyner, ex-officio member of the board, stated that he did not own any of the property in question and did not believe any member of the board was interested in any of it. He stated he thought any cleaning up of the district should go slowly and not scatter them all over the city. He pointed to the Parkhurst crusade as an object lesson, declaring that when the red light district in New York was broken up these characters were scattered all over the city to the eternal trouble of their respectable neighbors on all sides.

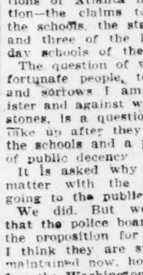

Charles Roberts Talks.

Alderman Charles Roberts, chairman of the police committee of the city council, and a member of the police board, declared he did not own any of the property in question, was not interested in it and did not believe any member of the board owned or was interested in any. Commissioner A. H. Van Dyke made practically the same statement, as did Commissioner J. Sid Holland.

Commissioner J. N. McEachern said: "I know of no member on the police board who has an interest in the property in question. Personally, I have no such interest. I am willing to cooperate in any movement which is for the best interests of the city. If the people of Atlanta desire the habitues of Collins and adjacent streets scattered all over town I am willing."

Captain J. W. English, former chairman and now a commissioner, stated that he had no interest directly or indirectly in the district and that any insinuation that he has was absolutely false. He declared that he had made sociology a study and that Atlanta had the evil better in hand than any city in the United States and few abroad had it in check so well.

Commissioner Howard Pattillo stated that if the present district were broken up the inmates would be scattered, and instead of people passing their houses, on a level with the roof, on a viaduct, they would, in some instances, have them for neighbors and the complaints would be louder and more frequent. He stated that so far as he knew, no member of the board had an interest in any of the property affected.

AFRICAN METHODISTS.

Second Day's Session at Rockmart Was Interesting.

Rockmart, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—The second day's session of the African Methodist (North Georgia) Conference, was a field day. Bishop Smith made some comments which were both instructive and inspiring. The bishop said the preachers must take their families with them to their charges.

"I say to you," said Bishop Smith, "as you will and must remain in this country, be diligent, upright in your conduct, teach the race to be industrious, practice economy, remain upon the farm."

Bishop W. H. Heard will deliver his farewell to the conference some time Saturday afternoon.

Last night was the educational anniversary. Able addresses were made by Rev. Dr. E. W. Lee, president of Morris Brown College; Rev. R. D. Stinson, vice-president; Dean W. G. Alexander, of the Theological Seminary.

Audience Given Prince George.

St. Petersburg, October 30.—The audience of Prince George, the crown prince of Servia, with Emperor Nicholas today was of a purely private and unofficial character, Russia having insisted upon this as a preliminary condition to the prince's visit to Russia. As emphasizing this, King Peter's letter to Emperor Nicholas was presented by M. Pasics, the Servian premier, at a later date. It is reported that Emperor Nicholas, in conversation with Prince George, dilated upon the necessity of abandoning those tactics which he said would find no support in Russia. The general attitude of Russia toward the Servian crown prince is one of rebuke for Prince George's recent utterances at Belgrade.

Negro Dies for Rape.

Richmond, Va., October 30.—Winston Green, a negro youth, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary today for attempted criminal assault upon a young white girl of Chesterfield county. After his conviction he made a full confession.

DEATH COMES TO JAMES KERR

Was National Committeeman in Pennsylvania, Succeeding Guffey.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 31.—James Kerr, democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, died at 12:40 o'clock this morning at his home in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. Kerr was for many years a personal friend of William J. Bryan and at the national democratic convention of 1896 he was one of the foremost to urge Colonel James M. Guffey, who was antagonistic to the silver plank in the Chicago platform, to turn in for Mr. Bryan. When the Bryan boom was launched in this state this year Mr. Kerr was one of those who helped organize the Bryan League of Pennsylvania, and at the democratic convention in Denver he was chosen national committeeman from Pennsylvania to succeed Colonel Guffey, thus assuring Bryan an organization in the state.

MACON DRAWS GREAT CROWDS

Macon, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—The state fair has proved the attraction for thousands of people in Macon today, and the grounds at Central City park have been thronged since early this morning. This has been the best day since the opening last Tuesday. Every department is showing up at its best, and the thousands of Georgia farmers and business people from every section have been high in their praise of the work of President Ben Jones, Manager W. A. Huff and the directors, who have done so much in the short time they had to prepare for a fair.

Cole Brothers' circus was the afternoon and evening attraction. The parade early this morning started the fun, and it has lasted every hour of the ideal day. Trains coming from every direction have brought crowds of people, and they came seemingly prepared to take in every feature. All attractions are proving valuable. The races today and yesterday were the best that have been witnessed, and the program lasted until the spectators were fully satisfied.

Severe Illness of Richard Johnston.

Macon, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Richard Johnston, vice president of the American National bank, is critically ill at his home on Georgia avenue. Many friends have been concerned about his recovery since Monday, and today their inquiries are frequent. He has held his own in the fight yesterday and today, but there is no change for the better reported.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

CONSTITUTION RETURNS AROUSE MUCH INTEREST

With the approach of election night, Tuesday, November 3, interest in the returns to be flashed by The Constitution at the intersection of Peachtree, Marietta and Decatur streets increases. On that night The Constitution will as usual, have stretched a great white canvas over the Goodrum Tobacco store, facing Peachtree street, at the head of the plaza, and on this the returns from all sections of the United States will be flashed as soon as received.

In order to get the returns and get them first, The Constitution has spared neither pains nor expense, and on this night will use its own leased wire of the Associated Press, the special wire of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the special service inaugurated for election night by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. In addition, the state will be covered by The Constitution's corps of correspondents to give the Georgia vote and also the vote on the constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection on this day.

L. Gregg, The Constitution's cartoonist, the author of "The Gopher," and other creations, will be in attendance to draw sketches and cartoons bearing on the national situation. The Constitution has the photographs of the celebrities now in the national eye and their likenesses will be flashed on the canvas from time to time. In view of the fact that the polls close in New York at 5 p. m., and their time is an hour ahead of Atlanta's, the returns will begin to arrive in Atlanta shortly after dark.

The space in front of The Constitution's canvas will afford a splendid view to 7,000 people and it is expected that every inch of space and every window in the near-by office buildings will be occupied with spectators on that night anxious to get the quickest and most accurate returns.

SEEK $1,190,000 IN PENALTIES

17 Insurance Companies Named as Defendants in Suit in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., October 30.—Seventeen insurance companies are named as defendants in a suit filed in the circuit court here today by Attorney General Kirby, which seeks the cancellation of the license of the different companies and the assessment of penalties aggregating $1,190,000. It is alleged by the attorney general that the companies named have violated a legislative act prohibiting the formation of a combine to fix and maintain rates or the commissions to be paid agents.

The companies sued are: National Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford; Hartford Fire Insurance Company; American Central Insurance Company, Orient Insurance Company, Fire Association of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Fire Insurance, Spring Garden Fire Insurance Company, German-American Insurance Company, Citizens' Insurance Company, of St. Louis; Pelican Assurance Company, of New York; Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company, Insurance Company of North America, Caledonian Insurance oCmpany, Fire-Caledonian Insurance Company, German Alliance Insurance Company, Queen's Insurance Company, of New York, and Royal Insurance Company, of Liverpool.

WATSON HEARD AT LAGRANGE.

He Was Greeted by Large Audience—Spoke on Usual Lines.

LaGrange, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) Hon. Thomas E. Watson, populist candidate for president of the United States, spoke to a large crowd here today. Many people were unable to get even standing room in the court house, where the speaking took place. It had been arranged to have the speaking outside in the open air, but on account of the morning being a little cool it was decided to speak in the court room.

He spoke along the usual lines, knocking both of the "Bills," and especially Mr. Bryan. He stated that he was the only democrat in the race and urged everybody to stand by him, and thus force the north to give the south recognition in politics, which has heretofore been denied to it. He said that if there were two strong parties in the south the north would be forced to give us more recognition in politics.

Has Served for 25 Years.

Rome, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—On next Sunday Dr. R. B. Headden, pastor of the First Baptist church, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his work in Rome. On November 1, 1883, Dr. Headden became pastor of the First Baptist church, and since that time has served his congregation. This evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church the ladies tendered him a reception in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his pastorate in Rome, and the members of his congregation and friends called and tendered their congratulations.

FARMAN FLIES TWENTY MILES

First Practical Demonstration Made by Aeroplane.

Mourmelon, France, October 30.—Henry Farman today, for the first time, gave a practical demonstration of the possibilities of the aeroplane by flying direct from this place to Rheims, a distance of twenty miles, without mishap.

The aeroplanist ascended at 4 o'clock this afternoon and after circling the field once, turned his machine in the direction of Rheims. Soaring over the tops of the trees, the aeroplane rapidly disappeared from the view of the delighted spectators. An hour later a telegram was received from Farman announcing his safe arrival at Rheims. He said that he would stop there for the night and intended to return to Mourmelon tomorrow by aeroplane.

The time of flight was twenty minutes and the height reached was between 120 and 150 feet. The course was literally as the crow flies, over trees, fields and streams.

HEAVY FINE GIVEN KELLEY.

Charged With Prohibition Law Violation—Warrant for C. D. Searcy.

In the recorder's court yesterday afternoon J. B. Kelley, 28 years of age, was fined $300 by Judge Broyles on a charge of having sold a pint of whisky at the near beer place of Griff Freeman, at 530 Marietta street. John Boykin, attorney for Kelley, gave notice of a certiorari.

Half an hour after the trial of Kelley a warrant was sworn out in Justice Landrum's court by Claude Finley for the arrest of C. D. Searcy, a young man who was the main witness in the Kelley case. Searcy was charged with having given whisky to a minor. Bond was fixed at $100, which amount was made.

It is alleged that Searcy also bought whisky from Finley. A case was previously made against Finley on this account, for which he will be required to answer in the recorder's court this morning.

The cases were made by Detectives Brannen and Doyal. On Thursday they secured the conviction of W. C. Burke, who is said to have sold whisky at a restaurant at the corner of Marietta and Bartow streets. Judge Broyles imposed a fine of $200. Searcy was likewise a witness in this case.

Robbery by Yeggmen.

Fairmont, La., October 30.—Members of an alleged gang of "yeggmen" robbed the postoffice and the large general supply store of Bush & Randolph here early this morning. The safe was blown open supposedly with nitroglycerin and the entire contents stolen. This safe was used by both the firm and the postoffice, which were in the same building. Until a postoffice inspector arrives the amount taken will not be known. A sheriff's posse is in pursuit.

MORE MONEY FOR CAMPAIGN

Chicago, October 30.—Colonel Elbert Ewing, editor and publisher of The New Orleans States, delivered at democratic national headquarters here today a check for $2,500 for the democratic campaign fund. This brings the total contributions received by his paper to $22,000, which is said to be the record for popular newspaper collections.

Other contributions reported today totaled $7,030. Among them were the following:

Arizona—A. F. X. O'Brien, $100.
Georgia—Clark Howell, $100.
Louisiana—Peter Youree, $100.
Missouri—Poplar Bluff Bryan and Kern Club, $100; Traveling Men's National Democratic Club, St. Louis, $150.
New Mexico—S. Lindauer, $100.
New York City—W. F. Sheehan, $1,000.
Oklahoma—C. J. Gallagher, $125.
Texas—Z. L. Cobb, $100; Richard Caples, $100.
Wisconsin—A. Berger, $1,000.

TAFT'S STATE GIVES OVATION

Mr. Taft most bitterly assails it, and yet, the very measure which we indorse passed the republican senate twelve years ago with but one vote against it.

"We are in favor of tariff reduction; the president, Mr. Taft and many prominent republicans have admitted that reduction is necessary, and yet the republican platform promises 'revision,' instead of reduction, and revision may mean anything or nothing, the word being used to excite the hopes of the tariff reform element in the republican party, while the republican leaders bargained the schedules to the protectionists in return for contributions.

Guarantee Trust Deposits.

"We are in favor of the guaranty of bank deposits, and while this is opposed by the republican candidate, the republican platform admits the need of more security when it advocates postal savings banks, and the consular report issued by the administration last July contains an indorsement of the guaranty plan in a report on German trade. In Germany they have 18,000,000 of depositors, with $3,000,000,000 of deposits, and these are guaranteed by a tax upon the municipalities. The municipality, however, receives an income from the banks when their earnings go above a certain point."

"Here, he said, are a number of propositions presented in our platform that can be established by evidence that ought to be acceptable to republicans. Besides these, we favor the limitation of the writ of injunction; the establishment of a labor department, with a representative of labor at its head, and a law making it impossible for a private monopoly to exist. Our platform represents the honest sentiment and the wish of a large percentage of the republicans, while the republican leaders have misrepresented the rank and file of their own party. As we stand for the great mass of the people in the reforms we advocate, we have a right to expect that the people will stand with us on election day.

NO TRUST MAGNATES AT BRYAN'S BACK DOOR

Bowling Green, Ohio, October 30.—"I would rather be elected president by the aid of 50,000 democrats, each giving a little, than to be elected president by the contributions of a few great trust magnates and then have them come to the back door of the white house and tell me what I must do in order to pay them back."

Taking up his attacks on John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie, both of whom have announced publicly their support of Mr. Taft, William J. Bryan here today spoke to a big crowd.

"Do you understand now," he said, "why Mr. Taft is not willing that their contributions shall be public before the election?"

Continuing, the democratic candidate said:

"For a generation the Standard Oil Company has been engaged in the pinching business. It has been pinching off its rivals, and today has a tariff of about 120 per cent against its chief rival, Russia. Mr. Rockefeller is supporting the republican ticket because he expects, through a republican victory, to put his hands in the pockets of twenty millions of people and not to be misled in the extortion in which he has taken part.

"Mr. Rockefeller, by his action, has torn the mask off the republican party. The republican party has been playing a double game in this campaign. In the west it has been presenting Mr. Taft as a reformer and in the east as a standpatter. In the west it has been representing Mr. Taft as a man who wants to improve conditions and down east they say: 'Hush! Just wait until he gets in and see how safe he will be.

God or Mammon?

"Now, I insist that the republican party shall either serve God or Mammon; it cannot do both. It cannot serve the plutocracy of this country and the masses at the same time. It cannot be the friend of the monopolies, and at the same time protect the great American people, and Mr. Rockefeller has done the American people a signal service in coming out and taking his position. He belongs on the side of the republican party, because the republican party is on his side.

"My friends, can any American farmer be deceived now as to the attitude of the republican party? Can any republican be so blind as not to understand what a republican victory means? Do you understand now why Mr. Taft is not willing that their contributions shall be published before the election? Do you understand now why it is that the congressional committee of the republican party won't agree to publish its contributions even after the election? We have published ours; we have told you where our money was coming from; we have taken you into our confidence because our money is coming from the people, who are helping to fight this battle because it is their battle. More than 50,000 democrats have voluntarily contributed to our campaign fund, and I would rather be elected president by the aid of fifty thousand democrats, each giving a little, than to be elected president by the contributions of a few great trust magnates, and then have them come to the back door of the white house and tell me what I must do in order to pay them back.

Dialogue With an Auditor.

Mr. Bryan was comparing the platforms of the republican and democratic parties on the tariff question, and laid great stress on the fact that the democrats were demanding reduction, while the republicans promised revision. This led to a hot dialogue between a man in the crowd, perched on the seat of a wagon, and the democratic candidate.

"How will reduction of the tariff help the unemployed?" he asked.

"You are a republican," Mr. Bryan inquired, "and what is your name?"

"Never mind that; answer the question."

"That," said Mr. Bryan, "gives you a fair sample of his idea of justice. He knows who I am, but I have no right to know who he is."

"I made 127 speeches for you all over the United States, but you answer my question."

"Well, sir, you ought to be making speeches this year. Tell me who you are."

"Answer my question."

The crowd by this time began to hiss and cried: "Go ahead, Mr. Bryan."

"Well, my friend," said the democratic candidate, "if he is ashamed to tell you he ought not to be out making speeches. When a man goes to another man's meeting and asks a question he ought to be man enough to tell who he is."

"What's that got to do with it? You cannot answer. Why does not your platform answer the unemployed proposition?"

"My friend, give me your attention," said Mr. Bryan. "He wants to know about the unemployed problem. I believe that the unemployed problem is due to the fact that there is an unfair distribution of the wealth created and when we try to remedy the evil, that man helps to elect a republican to keep this unemployed problem before the country."

The crowd wildly cheered, a burly man trying in the meantime to haul the disturber out of the crowd.

telligence, and I am sure that they are able to determine their real interests and will not be led astray by the fustian and buncombe of such appeals as those which Mr. Gompers is now making to his supposed followers."

The meeting at Utica today, besides Judge Taft and James S. Sherman and the magnitude of the reception the republican presidential candidate received in this city tonight, were other features today of the campaign Mr. Taft is making in northern New York, although at Batavia late this afternoon he left his car in a driving snow storm to speak to many thousands of people who had come to that town from miles around.

Enormous Crowds Gather.

Buffalo has two enormous meeting places, Convention hall and the Broadway arsenal. Two hours before the time set for the meetings these two places were packed, and on the outside were clamoring for admittance enough to fill the speaking places a second time. This was "Taft Tag Day" in Buffalo, and political enthusiasm, which has been running high, reached the tremendous pressure with the presence of the big Ohioan. He took advantage of the occasion to make labor speeches in which he pointed out with even greater emphasis than ever what he regarded as the danger of giving an opportunity for putting into effect the "Gompers-Bryan special class legislation progam."

The Utica demonstration in honor of the two men who head the republican ticket furnished a lighter chapter to the serious work of the campaign, the neighbors and friends of Mr. Sherman making the occasion an affair of cordiality in every way. Judge Taft captured his audiences there by familiarly speaking of his colleague as "Jim" and declaring his absolute confidence in "Jim's" prediction of republican success next Tuesday. The two candidates had a brief conference at Bagg's hotel prior to the meetings, during which Judge Taft took occasion to have his hair trimmed. He stated later that no matters of political importance were concerned.

Rules for County High Schools.

Montgomery, Ala., October 30.—(Special.)—Rules and regulations for the management of the new county high schools have been evolved from the multitude of laws that have to do with education of the children of the land, and made public by W. F. Feagin, chief clerk to the state superintendent of education, H. C. Gunnels. The entire management is provided for, along with a plan for the payment of teachers. The regulations are being prepared in pamphlet form and sent out to the counties that have now or are about to have established such schools.

To Behead Chinese Officers.

Pekin, October 30.—An edict issued today orders the beheading of two and severe punishments for seven other of the Chinese officers concerned in the crossing the Tonking border and the killing of French soldiers in Tonking in July of this year.

Actual Tests Prove Enormous Value of the Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR THE SOUTH.

Just one last word in regard to the Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine Co and the Cotton Picking Machine which it is manufacturing. The patents on this principle of gathering cotton by Vacuum are owned by the Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine Co. The entire principle involved and the appliances are fully covered. It is the only Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine. It is the only Cotton Picking Machine to stand the test.

COTTON PICKER GIVEN SATISFACTORY TEST

Many Planters Were at Barrow Place Yesterday to See the Vacuum Machine Pick Cotton in the Open Field.

A most successful and satisfactory test was given yesterday morning on the Barrow plantation by the operators of the new Vacuum cotton picking machine, which was brought here from St. Louis to give the planters of this section a practical demonstration of the workings of the mechanical device.

Many interested persons, including planters from all parts of the county, were present at the exhibition. Only one man was used to operate the big machine, and only one side of it was operated. The suction nozzle on the machine picked cotton and picked it clean, leaving the bare stalk standing in the ground. The exhibition continued for more than two hours, and much cotton was picked, although it was not the intention of the operators to make a record as to the amount of cotton gathered from the field. Various tools were tried on the machine, which took up much of the time. This was done to give those present an idea of the workings of the machine.

Another point in favor of the cotton picker was that that it picked Florodora cotton, which is regarded as the hardest cotton to pick in Southern fields. This cotton sticks in the bolls, but it failed to stick there when the cotton picking machine came in contact with it. It was simply sucked out of the bolls as clean as the human hand could pick it. The exhibition was very interesting and most satisfactory to the cotton planters who doubted the ability of the operators to pick cotton by machinery.

See what it did in the long "Florodora" Cotton at the test at Pine Bluff, Ark., and this too when the machine had just gone through a wreck! Since then it has been given other strenuous tests, in the low, small cotton of Arkansas and in Louisiana.

It has stood every test. Different styles and types of machines will be built to meet every demand, all based on the Thurman system principles, ranging from $1,500 up in price, and to do the work of 14 to 36 men.

In this advertisement are reproduced a number of newspaper comments, in every case unbiased opinions of people who have viewed the machine in its operation. In the prospectus, which can be obtained by writing me, are reproduced a number of letters, one from the Governor of a leading cotton-growing State, and others from cotton growers interested in cotton production.

There is no hesitancy in any of the indorsements about stating that the Thurman Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine is all that we have claimed for it; a successful Cotton Picking Machine destined to revolutionize cotton harvesting.

This is the last call for those who wish to participate in the profits the manufacture and sale of the machines.

By next spring we expect to have in operation the new plant with its army of laborers erected in some Southern city. With the erection of this plant and with capital enough to operate it, there will be no more stock for sale. The people will own it and get the benefits which, as Prof. Burkitt says, must go into the millions. It will not be in a trust or combine. With a new plant and facilities for manufacture the price of the machines can be so reduced as to put them in reach of all, solving the problem of labor, reducing the cost of cotton production, enabling the planter to make greater profits—exactly as harvesting machinery has reduced the cost of wheat production. With cotton at ten cents it costs one-fifth of the price to pick it. The Thurman Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine reduces this cost so that picking is the smallest rather than the largest item of expense.

There is nothing to conceal about this proposition. It is perfectly plain and above board. The Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine Company wants money enough to erect the new plant. To do this I give the public opportunity to purchase shares of the preferred stock of the company at par, $100 a share, and with each two shares of preferred will be given one share of the common stock, so that the holder of preferred stock will have participation in the management of the company. The preferred stock bears seven (7) per cent dividend, cumulative and guaranteed. The common stock is bound to be profitable and it costs the purchaser of preferred stock absolutely nothing. Two shares of preferred stock call for one share of common stock to be sent you through your bank or direct as you prefer. There are no half shares, and no common stock therefore can be given to the purchaser of only one share of preferred.

Where can you get a better investment than this?

You are helping in building up a great new industry for the South. You are helping in the solution of a great problem to the cotton grower, and you are securing a "ground-floor" entrance to a great industrial addition to the wealth of the world.

The Thurman Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine cannot fail to eventually take its place with the harvester, the self-binder, the Mergenthaler linotype machine and a hundred others that have made wealth for stockholders and early investors.

Send your remittance to-day. We are not going to sell more stock than is actually needed for the new plant. When that sum is secured the sale of stock will cease.

In the meantime, throughout the South there will be further demonstrations of the efficiency of the Thurman Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine. No phase of the problem will be overlooked and the Vacuum Cotton Picking Machine will solve them for the planter. Clean, high-grade cotton, cheapness in harvesting, a machine for the planter that can be utilized the year around—these will be obtained by the use of this machine—creating a new era of prosperity and industrial happiness in the South.

COTTON PICKING WITHOUT HANDS

Successful Operation of New Vacuum Machine at the State Fair Proves That a Revolution in Cotton Industry Is Near at Hand

Hot Springs, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—At the State Fair, during the past week, the new cotton picking machine has been the chief object of interest in the agricultural department, not only to the planter and farmer but to the average visitor as well. Col. J. M. Gracie, of Jefferson county, the owner of the largest individually controlled cotton plantation in the world, and Governor Pindall, who is also a practical cotton man, have pronounced the machine a success after seeing it in operation, picking cotton from a transplanted patch on the fair grounds.

Col. Gracie, after witnessing the demonstration of the machine, which is expected to work as great a revolution in the industry of cotton growing as did the cotton gin, said:

Objections Overcome.

"The chief objections which have been urged by some of the cotton men who have heard of this picker was their belief that it would draw a portion of the dry pod and stalk in with the cotton and that it would not pick cleanly.

"The machine demonstrates that these objections have no foundation, for it doesn't draw 'trash' into the cotton, while on the other hand negro pickers, who use four fingers in picking and make a quick grab at the cotton, pick portions of the stalk almost unavoidably.

"This machine doesn't tag cotton, but picks it cleanly from the pod. The saving of cotton left in the field and wasted by human pickers, through the use of this machine will amount to hundreds of dollars on a large plantation."

Governor Pindall said that the machine had his endorsement and gave the manufacturer permission to use his name in that connection.

Receipt That Cures Weak Men--Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So, I have determined to send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor-failure ever put together.

I have in my possession a prescription for them a copy in confidence, so that any man, anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what, I believe, is the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so, cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Mr. A. E. Robinson, 3962 Luck Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid receipt, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, free of charge.

GAVE CHECK FOR MILLION BUT NO MONEY WAS PASSED

Chicago, October 30—Albert M. Johnson, head of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States, in a hearing before Master in Chancery Zeisler, told how a $1,000,000 check was manipulated by him and his associates at the time they acquired the charter of the company.

Mr. Johnson revealed the facts while undergoing cross-examination by Attorney Tone, in the action which has been brought to restrain Gustave Myers, life insurance underwriter, from circulating a pamphlet attacking the company's financial standing.

The deal whereby A. C. Frost, promoter of the bankrupt Chicago and Milwaukee electric railroad, obtained $732,000 of the insurance company's funds on security alleged to be inadequate for the protection of the stockholders and policy holders, was the subject of further inquiry.

How the Deal Was Made.

"How much did the present company, that is now operating under a charter from the state of Illinois, pay in 1902 or at any time for the assets and business of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, the corporation chartered by congress for Jay Cooke in 1868?" asked Mr. Tone.

"Just $1,000,000 was the price," answered Johnson.

"Was the payment made by check or cash?"

"By check, on the Federal Trust and Savings bank."

"Is it not a fact that you, as an officer of one insurance company, drew a check for $1,000,000 to be paid to yourself, and that the payment of $1,000,000 was made by the ruse of arranging with the Federal Trust and Savings bank for the nominal use of this $1,000,000 for a few hours?" asked Attorney Tone.

"Well, the check was signed probably by me and by one other officer of each company," Mr. Johnson answered.

"But, as a matter of fact, no money ever passed in the so-called payment?" the lawyer persisted.

"The plan was to buy up the old company with this $1,000,000 payment, which $1,000,000 was to be turned over to the old company as a dividend."

"Was this done?"

"Yes."

"Did not the so-called payment of $1,000,000 instantly find its way back into the hands of you and your associates through this arrangement with the bank?"

"Everything that was done was according to the prearranged plan for the purchase."

"How much money did you or the purchasing company have on deposit in this bank at the time the payment was made?"

The question was objected to by Attorney L. A. Stebbins, for Johnson, and sustained on the ground that private business was not under investigation.

History of the Company.

The National Life Insurance Company of the United States was organized under the act of congress for the benefit of Jay Cooke, the civil war financier, in 1868. He operated it until 1872, when his failure forced him to dispose of it.

The next owner was the late Henry Furber, of Chicago, a well-known real estate man. In the early nineties Furber sold the charter and business to O. D. Wetherell, former city comptroller of Chicago. Wetherell sold it to the present owners, Albert M. Johnson and E. A. Shedd and associates.

"Did you ever invest money in any of the speculations or enterprises in which 'Death Valley' Scott was interested?"

"Not that I know. I had known Scott for a long time, having met him on my trips through that state."

"You deny any financial relations with him?"

"I deny any speculations with him."

It as brought out that the insurance company had collected more than $1,000,000 in participating policies, but has paid out participating profits to the policy holders or stockholders only $16,000.

"What surplus is now left out of this $1,000,000 collected on participating policies?" Mr. Johnson was asked.

"About $100,000, I believe," he answered.

CANDLER TALKS ABOUT BRANDON

Morris Brandon Makes Answer to Statement of Mr. Candler.

PROTECTING HIS RIGHTS

Mr. Candler Says Brandon Is Acting in Behalf of Street Car Company, and Mr. Brandon Says He Is Protecting His Private Interests.

Two interesting interviews were given to the press yesterday in relation to the suit filed by Morris Brandon against the Coca-Cola Company to prevent it from laying conduits from the Candler to the Moore and Marsh building.

In an interview in The Atlanta Journal Mr. Candler, president of the Coca-Cola Company, stated that he believed the Georgia Railway and Electric Company instigated this suit, and that he intends to defend his rights in the premises in every court which has jurisdiction in the matter. He declared that he asked the Georgia Railway and Electric Company for terms for lighting the Moore-Marsh building, and he considered the terms asked by them exorbitant, and then decided to light the building from the Candler.

In an interview given to The Constitution Mr. Brandon says that he is suing to protect his private rights as a citizen and as a property owner, and that "to say he (Mr. Candler) would have put his private pipes on my land without objection, except for the fact the street railroad company stirred me up, so as to make me resent the encroachment is ridiculous, and Mr. Candler ought to have realized it."

Will Fight to Finish.

Asa G. Candler, president of the Coca-Cola Company, stated yesterday morning that he proposed to fight the suit to the bitter end.

"I do not make it as an unequivocal statement," said Mr. Candler, "but I state it as my positive belief that the Georgia Railway and Electric Company instigated this law suit, and I shall defend what I believe to be my rights in the premises, in every court which has jurisdiction of the matter. I always try to do my duty as a citizen, and I do not propose to be held up in any such way by the Georgia Railway and Electric Company or anybody else.

"Some time ago we acquired the property known as the old Moore-Marsh building, at the corner of Edgewood avenue and North Pryor street. We set about to improve the property. Among other things it was, of course, necessary to equip it with electric lights. We had negotiations with the lighting department of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, with the sole idea of using their lights. It was found that their charges were exorbitant. In fact, I might state that in comparison with our lights in the Candler building, these charges were nothing short of outrageous. I therefore decided that it would be wiser and far cheaper to furnish the improved building with lights from our plant in the Candler building.

"With this idea in view," continued Mr. Candler, "I went to the city council in the most open manner and asked for the right to lay conduits for the purpose designated along Pryor street between the two buildings, a distance of but two blocks. The petition was read, referred and acted on in open council, and not the slightest kick was heard from Mr. Brandon. The petition was openly and legally granted, and we went to work to make the connections. Beginning at the Moore-Marsh building, the street was opened in a northerly direction, and went along quietly, passing Auburn avenue, passing the very property owned by Mr. Brandon, and in fact approaching closely the alley just south of the Lowndes building. Yesterday I was stricken with amazement—I could not have been more amazed if I had been struck by lightning—when Mr. Brandon filed his suit, claiming an illegal use of the street.

Why He Believes It.

"I have said," continued Mr. Candler, "that I believe the Georgia Railway and Electric Company instigated this suit. Why? Mr. Brandon is of the law firm of Rosser & Brandon, attorneys for this company. Mr. Brandon did not start his suit when I started the work of connecting the two buildings. He did not start it, even, before the work had reached his own property, but actually after it had passed it. We had negotiations with his company for lighting the new building, which we declined because of the outrageous price. And further, I might ask how in the name of common sense can our conduit hurt Mr. Brandon, or his property? I can see how it might, under some circumstances, greatly help him. Suppose, as a mere property owner along the street, he should be outraged with an excessive charge for electric lighting, and right by him was a wire belonging to another company. Suppose the other company were to give him a rate of one-half, or one-third, or even one-fifth of the old concern. Does anyone suppose that he or any other sane individual would pay the excessive instead of the reasonable charge? In other words, I say that the laying of this conduit cannot in any way harm Mr. Brandon or his property, but might possibly be of aid to him.

"Mr. Brandon is a man of standing and intelligence, all of which I cheerfully admit, but it seems exceedingly strange that he should wait until he did to bring his suit. The street is piled up with red clay. A heavy rain would fill up the cut, and might cause serious damage to the water pipes. I can't move a peg until the court says so.

Will Defend His Rights.

"For all these reasons," concluded Mr. Candler, "I am forced to the conclusion, and to the inevitable conclusion, that the Georgia Railway and Electric Company is behind this suit. As I stated above, I am going to defend my rights and fight this thing out to the finish. I know it will cost me much money, but I care nothing for that, as I do not propose to let this company or any other company or person bulldoze me or hold me up. I try to do my every duty as a citizen. I do everything in the open light of day. I never try to impede or obstruct anybody. When I want a thing, I go into the market and fight for it like a man. If I lose out, I don't whimper. I don't like the way I have been treated at all, and Mr. Brandon and the Georgia Railway and Electric Company will find it out in an entirely gentlemanly manner before this matter is ended."

Mr. Brandon's Answer.

Mr. Brandon gave the following interview:

"..... Mr. Candler in his interview in the esteemed Atlanta Journal speaks very savagely and excitedly about his 'rights' with reference to his placing a pipe for private purposes in the street in front of my property. The only 'rights' at issue between him and me is whether or not he can go upon my property without my consent. I don't think Mr. Candler can do this. He and The Journal evidently think that he can. The Journal says he is the richest man in the south, and he says he proposes to 'fight' vigorously. In my opinion he can't fight hard enough, even with the help of his immense riches, to establish his 'right' to take my property without my knowledge or consent.

"Any lawyer will tell Mr. Candler that, owning the property abutting on the street, I own a private interest in the street, and he has no more 'right' to take that than he has to take the house which The Journal speaks of so contemptuously as being plastered with signs for rent. If he, a private individual, can place pipes in the street in front of my property, so can every other private individual in Atlanta. He has no more 'rights' in the streets than any other private individual in Atlanta has, though he seems to think that I have done him a great wrong to dispute this proposition. When Mr. Candler gets cooler, he will doubtless regret that he has exploded so unnecessarily.

"Instead of Mr. Candler talking about being held up and using other ugly expressions which become him so poorly and which become a very much lower type of man that he is, much better than they do him, it seems to me it would be more appropriate for him to announce in the newspapers at the earliest possible moment (including, of course, my friend, the Journal) that he is on my property and will get off as soon as possible, without putting me to any trouble or expense. Especially, it seems to me, he ought to do this inasmuch as he boasts that he is in the habit of respecting the 'rights' of all persons. Mr. Candler actually announces that he got permission from the city council. If I should get on Mr. Candler's property and undertake to plead as my justification that the city council gave me the permission to do it, Mr. Candler would think I was a crazy man.

"It is not necessary for Mr. Candler to waste time about who is behind me. In this particular instance I am able to be behind myself. I think that in spite of Mr. Candler's immense riches, if he is on my property he will have to get off. If he is not on my property, then I have no just complaint, but the courts will try this proposition, and Mr. Candler and the Journal can't decide it.

"If Mr. Candler's employees were taking the shingles off my house, instead of laying a pipe on my land, it would be a poor reply if I sought to stop him, for him to say that the street railroad is behind me. To say he would have put his private pipe on my land without objection, except for the fact that the street railroad company stir me up so as to make me resent the encroachment, is ridiculous and Mr. Candler ought to have realized it.

"I have brought a suit to have my rights, if I have any, determined in the courts. Mr. Candler and the Journal seem to think that it is a thing to be tried by interviews and editorials; and by savage talk about 'rights,' 'fights,' 'private riches' and 'monopolies.' I do not agree to this.

Since its publication more copies of

have been sold than have ever been sold of any other novel by Harold MacGrath in the same length of time.

The publishers decline to give any figures, no doubt realizing that the actual numbers would inevitably be thought an exaggeration of the fact.

It remains beyond question that THE LURE OF THE MASK is proving the most popular book of its popular author.

The window shows but a few samples; others inside of equal and even greater beauty.

You'll be quite welcome to come in and view the showing.

KILLED IN JAIL BY MASKED MOB

Mob Intended to Hang Cook but He Resisted and They Shot Him.

Kingston, Tenn., October 30.—A mob of about thirty men attacked the Roane county jail last midnight and killed George Cook, held therein as a prisoner on the charge of murdering John King, ferryman at Southwest Point, a few weeks ago. Of the members of the mob all save two were masked, and these unmasked men were strangers to the sheriff. The identity of none of the mob is known.

It is presumed the men intended to hang Cook, as they had a rope in their possession. However, when his cell was reached, he offered resistance, and produced a razor which was concealed in his cell. With this weapon he made a defense and cut one of the men in the mob. This, it appears, enraged the invaders, and Cook was shot dead. Four bullets entered his body, one penetrating the breast, one the left arm and two the abdomen.

The sheriff's deputies are scouring the county today in quest of evidence as to the members of the mob. Governor Patterson will be asked to offer a reward for their apprehension. Previous to the time he killed King, Cook was under a similar charge in Chattanooga, where he was arrested after escaping from this county following the King crime. The Chattanooga authorities yielded the prisoner to the Roane county officials, and no indictment was returned against Cook by the Hamilton county grand jury. It is believed by some that friends of the man whom Cook killed in Chattanooga may have come here and taken a hand in the mob violence of last night.

Will Vote for Bryan.

Montgomery, Ala., October 30.—Democrats are told that many southern negroes are going to vote for William J. Bryan. Andrew Frizzer, Jr., of this city, and Hal Parker, of Camden, Ala., have insisted that they be allowed to contribute to the campaign of the Nebraska leader. Their names have gone down with the whites who are giving to the fund.

ALL-DAY SINGING FOR POLICEMEN

Sunday, November 8, Will Be a Red Letter Day.

Sunday, November 8, will be a great day for the singers of the city and surrounding territory, for an old-fashioned all-day country singing will be held at Piedmont park under the direction of the singing class of the local police department.

Dinner will be served on the grounds. Invitations to the above occasion are being issued by a committee composed of Sergeant R. J. Brown, W. F. Harper, and D. F. Cook, all three good singers and well qualified to arrange the details of such an event. Invitations have been sent to perhaps twenty singing leaders in as many towns near Atlanta. They have also been mailed in abundance to many citizens of the city.

An organ with a good voice has been secured and scores of old-fashioned song books have been unshelved. The organ will dispense all the music there is, with the exception of that emitted from the throats of the multitude of singers.

All those lyrically inclined are invited to rehearse with the policemen's singing class on tomorrow. The latter will hold forth in the recorder's court room at 2 o'clock.

GOMPERS CASE DELAYED UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

Efforts of Labor Leaders to Have the Case Decided at Once Failed.

Washington, October 30.—Notwithstanding efforts of labor leaders to have the question decided before the general elections, Justice Wright, in the district supreme court, today postponed until November 10 consideration of the case of Samuel Gompers, president; John Mitchell, vice president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, who are charged with contempt of court. The case grows out of a suit for injunction instituted against the labor officials by the Buck Stove and Range Company, of St. Louis, Mo.

HARRIS ATTACKS G. O. P. TACTICS

Refutes Claim That General Joseph Wheeler Was Not a Democrat.

Cedartown, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—In reply to the efforts that are being made by the republican party to produce the impression that General Joseph Wheeler would have opposed Bryan had he lived, General Wheeler's son-in-law, W. J. Harris, of this place, has issued the following card:

In a circular issued and circulated throughout north Georgia by republican officeholders in support of Mr. Taft, reference is made to General Wheeler's dissatisfaction with the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill, in such connection as to create the impression that General Wheeler was unfriendly to the democratic party and policies.

In common with nearly all other democrats, General Wheeler was not satisfied with that bill, but he voted for it because it was a better measure than any republican tariff bill that ever had or would be passed. In his judgment, the Wilson-Gorman bill fell short of the duty of the party at that time, but a few democrats in the senate with the solid support of the republicans were able to prevent it. Nothing could be further from the fact that General Wheeler was ever disloyal or unfriendly to his party or its candidates. He was always active and aggressive in support of its nominees for president from Seymour to Parker, traveling 2,000 miles to the safely democratic state of Alabama to vote for Judge Parker against Mr. Roosevelt, who had served under him in the Spanish-American war, and with whom he was on terms of warm personal friendship.

General Wheeler was a warm personal friend of Mr. Bryan and members of both families were much attached to each other. He believed implicitly that Mr. Bryan was a great and good man and thoroughly fitted for the office of president.

If General Wheeler were alive Mr. Bryan would have no more loyal and active supporter. I cannot let the impression sought to be made go uncontradicted. The children of General Wheeler would be deeply grieved if the impression should get abroad among his old comrades and friends that he ever had a thought or sentiment that was not loyal and true to their best interests and traditions and to the democratic party, at whose hands he had been so often and highly honored.

I regret that any occasion for this communication should have been made necessary.

DID NOT READ BANK REPORTS

Charles W. Morse Signed These Reports Offhand. About Heinze Loan.

New York, October 30.—United States District Attorney Stimson sprang a surprise on Charles W. Morse today in the hearing before the United States circuit court when he read a letter addressed to the comptroller of the currency, W. B. Ridgley, and signed by other directors of the New Amsterdam bank, saying that Mr. Morse was not directly interested in the loan of more than $250,000 made to his secretary, Miss Katherine A. Wilson. Mr. Morse had just testified that the loan was made in his behalf.

It was then brought out that Mr. Morse never read the reports to the comptroller of the currency showing the bank's outstanding loans, indorsers, etc., but that he signed them offhand.

Mr. Stimson laid great stress on the liquidation of a note for $100,000 on October 14 through the purchase by the bank of 2,000 shares of Ice stock and a $40,000 loan to Mr. Morse. Mr. Morse said the amount should have been charged against the $135,000 profits he had turned into the bank just before the situation arose.

"You say you were solvent on October 14?" asked Mr. Stimson.

"Yes," replied the witness.

"And yet, according to your statement, you agreed with Curtis to charge off the books of the bank a perfectly good account of $60,000 as a loss?"

"That is not the right way to put it," retorted Mr. Morse, firmly. "I was holding 6,000 shares of Ice stock, 4,000 in the Mercantile and 2,000 in the National Bank of North America. I did not consider that it was much to ask the bank to pay $10 a share on the 6,000 shares, when I had given the bank $135,000."

The Heinze loan of $212,000 was entered into briefly, Mr. Morse explaining that the loan was made on supposedly good collateral.

Mr. Curtis refused to make this loan and Mr. Morse afterwards put it through.

83 TO SPARE, SAYS HITCHCOCK

Claims 325 Electoral Votes for the Republican Ticket.

New York, October 30.—In his forecast of the composition of the electoral college, which will choose the next president and vice president of the United States, made public at republican headquarters tonight, National Chairman Hitchcock claims 325 republican members or 83 more than will be required to elect their candidates.

For the republican ticket, Mr. Hitchcock is sure of New York, Ohio and Indiana. He also includes in the republican column Nebraska, Montana, Maryland and Nevada.

Wild Horse Injured Lineman.

Macon, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—A runaway horse dashed into the corner of Fourth and Plum streets this afternoon and severely injured M. R. Little, a lineman who was standing on the walk. The horse became frightened up the street and dashed several blocks before he struck the injured man. The buggy was shattered against a pole near Little and a public dray horse was injured. The team belonged to McMullen & Roundtree, and had been out only a few minutes. Little had no permanent injuries, but will be under treatment several days. He had a narrow escape from instant death. Another pedestrian barely escaped, having been knocked down.

PATTON GIVEN GOOD POSITION

Made Traveling Passenger Agent of the A., B. & A. Line.

The traffic officials of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad announce the appointment of Chas. Patton to the position of traveling passenger agent for that line, with headquarters in Atlanta.

Mr. Patton is a man of broad experience in railroad work, of splendid ability and a tireless worker, whose slogan is, "Get the business." His energetic business methods, aided by a sunny disposition, will, without question, bring satisfactory results to the management of the splendid system with which he is now identified.

His labor of several years past has been as traveling representative for the Burlington Railroad System, and he leaves that line bearing with him the best wishes of its officials and his former fellow-workers.

Mr. Patton is receiving numerous congratulations and expressions of good will from his friends of the commercial and railroad world for his success in the new position and satisfaction that his present duties will not remove him from the field where he is so well and favorably known.

DEED WAS DONE IN SELF-DEFENSE

So Kitchens Claims in Regard to Killing His Cousin.

Macon, Ga., October 30.—W. M. Kitchens, a prominent former of Jones county, Georgia, shot and killed D. A. Kitchens, a prominent farmer of Jones merchant, here, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The slayer says his deed was done in self-defense, as the other man slapped him in the face and started to pull his pistol.

"I did not shoot until I saw him about to draw his pistol, and then I shot three times, I think."

W. M. Kitchens said tonight at the county jail where is incarcerated:

"I was perfectly justifiable in doing what I did, and if it had to be done over again I would do the same thing."

D. A. Kitchens, who was killed, some years ago killed Baldwin Jones, a farmer, near the same spot.

Covington Bonds Sold.

Covington, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Covington has caused to feel proud of its municipal credit, as evidenced in the sale this week of its $60,000 bond issue to an Augusta firm. The sale was made Tuesday afternoon and resulted in the city receiving $60,663 in cash for its $60,000 worth of bonds. The city will proceed now as rapidly as the work can be done to put in a system of sewerage and to erect a water plant and lay the necessary water pipes.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths; also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousnss, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young ladies. Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell you sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write today, as you may not see this offer again. Address

SHORT ITEMS OF INTEREST

ON SUNDAY EVENING AT 7:30 O'CLOCK the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will celebrate with fitting ceremony the 391st anniversary of the Protestant reformation. October 31, 1517, was the birthday of the Protestant church, and each year the event is widely celebrated by Lutherans. The special address will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. W. C. Schaeffer, for many years pastor of the Church of the Ascension, Savannah, now of Greeneville, Tenn.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE membership of Jackson Hill Baptist church on a very urgent matter connected with the new church improvements will be held at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

REV. W. W. WHITE, D.D., PRESIDENT of the Bible Teachers' Training school of New York, who has been conducting a Bible conference in North Avenue Presbyterian church every afternoon and night during the week just past, will deliver his last address in the same place at 7:45 o'clock Sunday evening. His there will then be the "Epistle to the Romans." This lecture is declared by some who have heard him to be one of the strongest, most illuminating and inspiring interpretations of a book of scripture that they know.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION OF the Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association will be held Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, at the Highland Park Baptist church. The principal speakers at the session will be Rev. John F. Pursey and Colonel W. W. Gaines. This is the first meeting with this new church and the various schools of the association are urged to send large delegations. Those attending will take Houston street cars.

THE JURY IN THE ERBY M. M'GEE case, which has been on trial in the federal court, Judge Newman presiding, since Wednesday last, has failed to make a verdict and has been discharged. McGee was charged with appropriating to his own use the contents of a letter passing through his route, Fulton county No. 3.

ED JENKINS ARRESTED ON VIRGINIA WARRANT

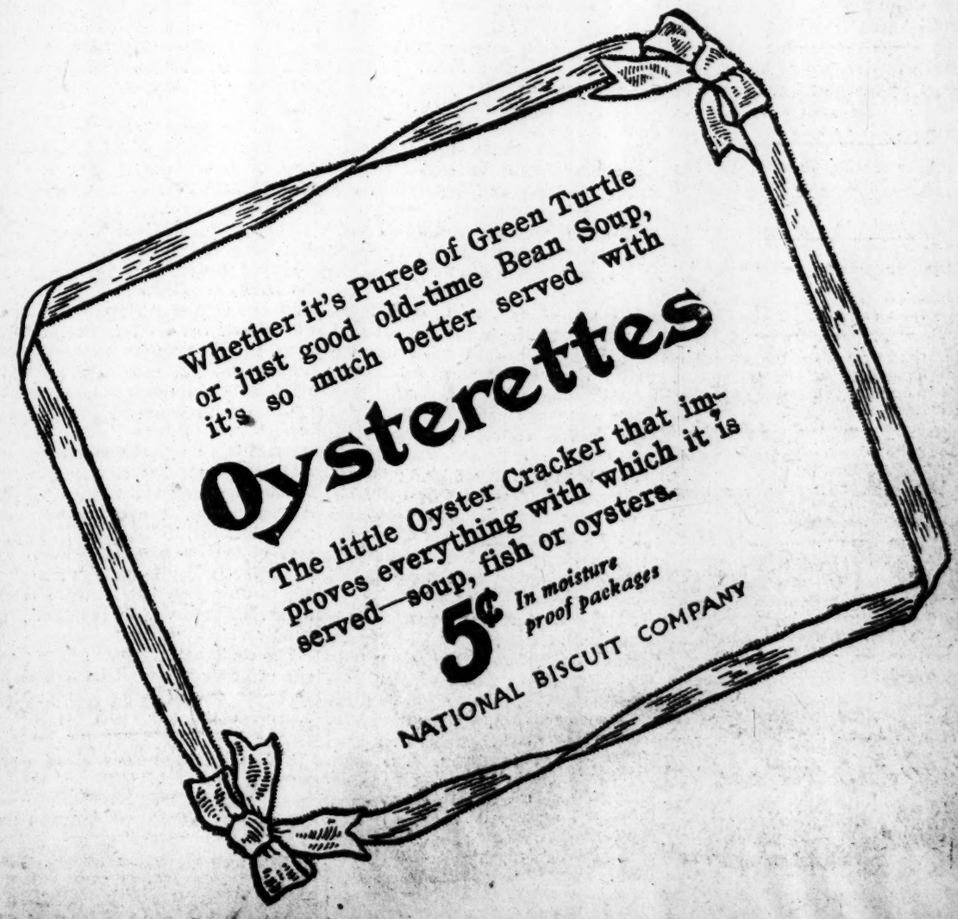

With a warrant from Roanoke, Va., Detectives Bullard and Black went last night about 9 o'clock to the Temple Court building and arrested Ed Jenkins, 29 years of age, who is said to be wanted in the Virginia town on a charge of forgery. Jenkins was brought to the station house and will be held until called for by the Roanoke authorities.

Detectives Bullard and Black went first to the boarding place of Jenkins, the Jones house, at 148 South Pryor. They asked where Jenkins was and were told that he was at that moment going up the steps to the second floor.

Jenkins took his time going up and the officers thought they would find him in his room. Their chagrin was great, therefore, when they failed to find him after a diligent search. It developed that Jenkins had gone down a flight of steps in the rear and left the place.

The detectives repaired at once to room 308 of the Temple Court building—an insurance office in which Jenkins is employed. They found him there and took him into custody.

A CALL FOR CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The Constitution will receive and acknowledge contributions to the democratic national campaign fund in any amount from one dollar upward, forwarding same promptly to treasurer of the campaign committee.

Thousands of good democrats in Georgia should esteem it a privilege to contribute their portion to the success of the party.

On the last round Hearst is reading himself out of the campaign.

It is a wonder there was gas enough left for a "whirlwind finish."

"Where is my wandering voice tonight?" is Taft's query in New York.

Two days ominous with trouble this year—the first and third of November.

If it has been a campaign of education, the people have had a sorry spell of it.

Another exploded theory: Oil—of Standard variety—doesn't calm the troubled waters.

Even if contributions have been slow, there has been a barrel of fun in the campaign.

It is fortunate that the campaign in New York is within the law against "unnecessary noises."

Having little money to consume, the hard-pressed campaigners decided to burn the wind.

Latest campaign book: "Letters of Theodore Roosevelt; Being a Supplement to the 'Life of Taft.'"

The Chicago News says Ohio is so safe for Taft that all the cabinet is going forth to save the saved.

Japan did so handsomely by the fleet that we feel grateful enough to give her the Philippines as a keepsake.

They have reached that stage of the campaign when the roll of the barrel is more interesting than the roaring of the captains.

No one has advised Uncle Joe Cannon to "vote as he prays," for they've had him on swearing ground all through the campaign.

Two days of grace for the campaign dollar. Even if it rolls in at the last minute it may furnish a torchlight for the triumphal procession.

When "the shouting and the tumult dies," and the fate of the campaign lills is settled, we'll all pay a little more attention to old Dollar Bill, and help build up the country.

Ungrateful cows tried to break up a Taft meeting in New York, notwithstanding his reiterated promises to put the country in clover. Evidently, the cattle are unconvinced.

The airship has reached the dignity of a journal devoted to its interests. At no distant date we may expect to see such items as the following in its columns:

"Aviator Brown dropped down on us yesterday, but we were not hard hit, as we were fully prepared for him.

"Colonel Airbrake called yesterday, when we were out, and left three bags of sand, weighing a ton each, on our table. (The sand came through the skylight.)"

IMPORTANT RAILROAD ACTIVITY.

Important among indications of rapidly improving business conditions is the announcement that the Illinois Central and Southern Pacific railroad systems, both operating largely in southern territory, have placed extensive orders for new equipment, that of the former amounting to $1,000,000 and that of the latter to $2,000,000.

The expenditure by two railroad systems alone of $3,000,000 for equipment can only be accounted for by the fact that traffic prospects warrant it; otherwise it would not have been made.

The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, in calling attention to these extensive orders, quotes from a number of railroad officials, among them President J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central, who says:

Business is somewhat improving, with indications pointing to further improvement, particularly in the south, where crops are good. We have ordered considerable new equipment, and other roads have done likewise. We are making no addition to the property, but are increasing facilities wherever needed to take care of the business.

Others among them speak in a like optimistic tone, and improvement in some form or other is noted by practically all of them.

Considering the well-known tendency of railroad officials to extreme conservatism rather than exaggeration, these views may be taken to indicate a steady and rapidly growing improvement all along commercial and business lines.

Not a few southern railroads besides those mentioned have placed large equipment orders or are pushing rapidly improvements which two years ago were suddenly suspended. Among these is the Seaboard Air Line, upon whose important and extensive improvements, with the sanction and by direction of the receivership court, The Constitution has already commented.

All of these things evidently foreshadow a complete industrial revival within the very near future.

Agriculturally the country has surpassed itself this year. It cannot be doubted that if industries had kept pace with the farm, this fall would have witnessed just such another condition as that of two years ago, when practically every railroad in the country was overwhelmed with more traffic than it could handle.

With the steady improvement now witnessed on every side, continuing unchecked, another season will bring that condition. The railroads know it and many of them now are beginning to prepare for it. Equipment works can fill orders now with comparative promptness, whereas they will not be able to do so when flooded with rush orders to meet imminent and threatened congestion.

The significance of this railroad activity is that of sure and substantial progress toward a normal and a healthy prosperity, whose coming must now be accepted as assured.

THE DANGER IN APATHY.

Aside from the impelling importance of a full democratic vote this year, the presentation to the people in next Tuesday's election of a constitutional amendment providing for service pensions should command the attention, consideration and action of every voter in the state.

The man who fails to vote, unless he be prevented by some providential or like controlling reason, will have no right of complaint in event the ratification of the service pension amendment should result in materially increasing the taxes he is called upon to pay the state, or if, as the only possible alternative, its effect should be to deprive the nearly 16,000 veterans and widows now on the state's pension rolls of a part of their present meager income.

It is well-known that the only source of money available for paying additional pensions is in an increase of the tax rate, which can only be brought about by constitutional amendment.

The grave danger is, therefore, that the veterans and widows now on the pension rolls would have to suffer. Discussing this phase of the matter, The Savannah Morning News says:

The pension charge now amounts to nearly $1,000,000 a year. It is hardly reasonable to suppose the legislature would appropriate more than that sum for pensions as long as the schools were clamoring for more money and other state institutions were claiming that they were being starved.

What, then, would happen, if the amendment should be adopted. As far as we can see, the amount now appropriated would have to be divided among the needy pensioners and the service pensioners. The pensions of the needy pensioners might be greatly reduced. We do not say that such would be the case, because it isn't known how great the charge for the service pensioners would be. That wouldn't be known until the pension commissioner made out the service pension roll.

It has been estimated that it would take $1,000,000 additional to pay pensions on a service basis. But even if it required only one-third of that amount, the result would be to reduce by more than $300,000, or over 30 per cent, the pensions now paid to needy and deserving veterans, not one of whom the state is in anywise neglecting.

Of course, if the people of Georgia want to increase taxation or reduce the amount of the individual pension, it is their affair.

But before voting for the ratification of the service pension amendment, they should give the matter careful consideration and advise themselves as to just what effect it is going to have.

It is a matter which imposes an additional obligation upon Georgia voters, and democratic voters particularly, in going to the polls on Tuesday, for upon the party rests responsibility for the administration of state affairs.

With the party, likewise, will rest the responsibility of meeting whatever obligation this amendment, if ratified, will create.

It is their duty, therefore, to consider well whether they are willing, under all the conditions, to permit the creation of this burden whose extent may go even far beyond present estimates and expectations.

For Farmers' Uplift.

The commission on country life appointed by President Roosevelt will early next month begin a tour of investigation of the agricultural colleges, experiment stations and farming sections throughout the United States.

Heretofore the public has had only a nebulous idea of the plan of campaign proposed to be waged for the uplift of the nation's farmers and the improvement of conditions surrounding farm life.

The general aims and purpose of the commission are well understood and the results of its investigations to be included in a report to the president will be awaited with more than ordinary interest.

The proposed tour, which will take in every section and probably every state in the union, is to be heartily commended. Only by ocular demonstration and personal inquiry can the members so thoroughly familiarize themselves with the conditions they seek to better as to make their work of real and lasting profit.

Viewing farm life, as they will, from a slightly different angle from those regularly engaged in the task of raising products that feed and clothe the world, the observations and deductions of this able commission may throw a new and immensely beneficial light on this entirely practical problem.

That keen satirist and kindly humorist, Mr. Dooley, does not deal entirely justly with these eminent gentlemen when he declares their purpose is "to discover th' causes of onhappiness on the farm an' have thim removed be an act of congress."

At the head of the commission is Dean L. H. Bailey, director of the college of agriculture of Cornell university. Kenyon L. Butterfield, of Massachusetts, is also a valued addition to the commission, by reason of his wide practical knowledge and deep study of farming affairs. The south is represented by Walter H. Page, editor of World's Work. Henry Wallace, of Iowa, represents the west. Gifford Pinchot, the national forester, and E. W. Allen, the executive secretary, complete the commission, though it is announced that two more men will be added by President Roosevelt.

In deciding to tour the country and talk with farmers, teachers, ministers and business men, the commission evinces a clear appreciation of the wide range of its subject. The cooperation and advice of all must be secured to improve the general economic, social and sanitary conditions of the farm.

The agricultural schools of the country should be given careful attention. Statistics showing the success of graduates, if included in the report, will prove stimulating and helpful. The work of farmers' institutes and experiment stations, the dissemination of knowledge of scientific farming, the influence of good roads and good schools, should all be given due and proper consideration by the commission.

It was but natural that the farmers' organizations of the country should view favorably the appointment by the president of such a commission. Everything that adds to the dignity, the importance and the value of farm life; everything that directs the enlightened thought of the farm boy and the farm girl toward the farm, rather than away from it; everything that will increase the returns from farm work, and promote the comfort of the farm home, will have a wide-spread and beneficial influence and effect.

The commission may not be successful in banishing "onhappiuess," for that is a very old and a very general complaint; but it may promote happiness among the farmers by promoting culture, by encouraging scientific education, by lightening the burdens of the farmer's wife, who Mr. Dooly facetiously remarks, "has nothing to attend to, but the care iv th' house, th' cookin', th' chickens, th' childer an' th' churn."

The commission's work is a big one and of immediate personal interest to thirty-six out of every one hundred Americans.

Yale college has the skull of a prehistoric animal of immense proportions. Harvard may go Yale one better after the president's African hunt.

How fortunately it falls out: Theodore, Jr., as an expert carpet weaver, may work wonders with the fur of the animals the Great Hunter slaughters.

"We need in this settlement," says The Billville Banner, "just such an editor as President Roosevelt will be—not only an editor with a big stick, but one who will use it on short notice. So many men call to 'do us up,' we would be a whole team—and then some more, if we could accommodate them all. We don't mind climbing to the roof when the sheriff calls—if it happens to be summertime, but this thing of spending two hours or more at that altitude when winter winds are blowing is a little too much for shivering humanity. Then, if we use a big stick, we lose a subscriber every time it comes down. But in the president's case it will be different. The more he whacks 'em, the more they'll love him. Praise for the Old Man.

"Ah," said the Old Lady, "my ol' man's one man in a million! Snowed Under.

Walt Mason is the author of this tribute to the Sunday newspaper, in The Emporia Gazette:

"I spent 5 cents for The Sunday Dart, and hauled it home in a two-wheeled cart; I piled the sections upon the floor, till they reached as high as the kitchen door; I hung the chromos upon the wall, though there wasn't room to hang them all, and the yard was littered some ten feet deep, with 'comic sections' that made me weep; and there were sections of pink and green, a woman's section and magazine, and sheets of music the which if played would make an audience quickly fade; and there were patterns for women's gowns and also for gentlemen's hand-me-downs; and a false moustache and a rubber doll, and a deck of cards and a parasol. Now men are busy with dray and cart, a-hauling away The Sunday Dart."

The Envious Poet.

Having read the statement that Kipling recently received $10 a word for a poem, a Georgia poet writes:

"No hope for us writers now I see—
We never shall get that pay;
He gets ten dollars a word, an' he
Will soon be rich as a man can be,
For he can write—so it's told to me—
Ten thousand words a day!"

Letters from the People

Night Riders Condemned.

Editor Constitution: The whole south has been shamed and the whole world shocked by the Union City (Tenn.) outrage. If such things are to be permitted, who is safe?

The time has come for every loyal American citizen to uphold the majesty of the law in every instance. Ever since the war many in the south have held that, in case of certain crimes, lynching is the only remedy. This is all wrong. There is no law which permits lynching. It is of itself a lawless act. It is never accomplished without implicating others in the highest of all crimes, murder. Let us recognize that there is no mob law. No matter who composes the mob, it is always a lawless mob. Every act of a mob is a lawless act.

There are two causes for mobs, lynchings, night riders and all other lawless gatherings. In every instance their lawless acts can be traced to either one or the other of these two causes. The first is unwillingness to submit to the demands of the law. If everyone will loyally admit the law to be supreme, there would be no lynching.

The second cause of mobs is delay in the administration of the law. This is always a difficult problem. Men, even though officers of the law, do not see things alike. One man can do much to influence others. One juror has been known to change the views of the other eleven and set the guilty prisoner free.

As a rule, a public officer feels his responsibility, and for the most part they will do their duty. The trouble is not so much in their punishing the guilty after apprehension as in bringing the guilty to judgment. When it is known that arresting officers are in sympathy with violations of the law, and that they will not bother the violators, an outraged public feels helpless. The mob is formed and deeds of even greater lawlessness are committed in the effort to meet the inefficiency of the officers of the law. The "law's delay" has caused many mobs. This is fast becoming the case with our prohibition law. Already threats and Black Hand letters have been sent out. It means that the law legally framed and passed does not suit some folks, and they are determined not to let the law rule. Of course the law against stealing does not suit the thief. How can it? Who has the right to object to the law against stealing?

There is but one way to prove that a law is a bad one, and that is to thoroughly enforce it. You can get rid of a bad law quicker that way than by any other method.

I call upon our officers everywhere to enforce to the last degree every law. I call upon every citizen of our fair land to ascribe to every law all majesty and full power to meet conditions. What the law cannot do or what the law will not do must not be done by mobs and night riders.

It is sincerely to be hoped that every one who took part in the Tennessee affair will be speedily brought to justice. Duelling has been practically abolished because public sentiment and law are against it. Let us create public sentiment against mobs, and such lawlessness will soon cease.

Inequality of the Protective Tariff.

Editor Constitution: The shibboleth of the republican party for half a century has been a high protective tariff under the hypocritical guise of protection for the American laborers against the cheap labor of Europe. In effect, it does not elevate or benefit, but renders helpless and degrades 85 per cent of the American people. And the republican party has engrafted this unjust system of taxation upon the American people largely by purchased legislation, created for the purpose of enabling 15 per cent of capitalists to enjoy unbridled special privileges. At this time a protective tariff of any character is ogreism brazen and bold.

The republican party has controlled the policies of the United States government practically for fifty years. The results have been the boldest corruption, governmental extravagance unprecedented in the history of the country, and the concentration of wealth.

Colossal corporations, the legitimate offspring of a high protective tariff, have driven out of business all minor industries such as small miners and small mill owners.

If the average business man, the laborer, the farmer and the artisan realized that the lumber in his house, the meat upon his table, the knife and the fork which carries the food to his mouth, the shoes on his feet, the hat upon his head, every implement that enables him to earn his livelihood by the "sweat of his face," and every article of clothing that shields his body from storm and cold, are now taxed by his government at from 25 to 90 per cent above their normal cost to make billion-dollar heirs, they would march as one man on November 3, and with the ballot hurl from the "Tarpeian rock" of power every vestige of a party that has so long held their noses to the grinding rock of the iniquitous system of a high protective tariff.

The sentiment of the American people toward the owners of great wealth is not one of envy or unkindness, but the question of "how their wealth was acquired" is firmly deepening in their minds.

When this government was ruled in harmony with the conception of its founder, Thomas Jefferson, the assassin and the anarchist—possibly made so by the despotic monarchies of Europe—found no lodgment upon American soil.

Every student of history knows that the too virile and ever aggressive republican party—made such by a too long tenure of office—has repudiated and radically changed the form, and departed from the fundamental principles upon which the American republic was founded.

Where the change in the system of our government will lead us, "God only knows." But the patriot and devotee of liberty is seriously concerned, and trembles for the fate of his country when he contemplates the stupendous transformation of the American government under the administration of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln and that of Theodore Roosevelt.

The optimist hopes that all things may terminate in good. The attitude of Theodore Roosevelt while president of the United States, as "a practical man," a solicitor of funds to secure his own election to the highest office in the gift of the American people, and then claiming that his collection of $260,000 from the head of a great corporation was only a mere form—his campaign committee only needed it to "play with"—is such as to make the American patriot hang his head in shame. Mr. Roosevelt's attempt to dictate his successor to the presidency, with the assumption that the American people are such fools that they cannot decide this question for themselves; his infallibility and unqualified right to condemn every authority that conflicts with his own opinion; his intense partisanship, and the ruling passion of his life, that he should be the czar of America, is enough to make the shades of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, could they again appear upon the scenes of their heroic and glorious deeds, ask the question, "Shall America become the Niobe of the nations of the earth?"

OLD REGIME.

New Bridge at Newnan.

Following its visit to Newnan and its inspection of railway property and terminals at that point, the railroad commission yesterday wrote the officials of the Central of Georgia Railway in reference to a dilapidated wooden bridge over its line in that city.

On their inspection tour of the Atlanta and West Point road, the railroad commission's attention was directed to the Central's bridge. It was declared by citizens to be unsafe. The commission has taken up the matter with the idea of having the old bridge torn down and a new one constructed.

The citizens of Newnan are also moving to secure a new passenger station. The preference of a number of citizens is the spot where the Central and the Atlanta and West Point lines cross. Plans for a new station had been completed and approved by President Wickersham, of the West Point, and Major Hanson, of the Central, and the work of construction was about to begin when the panic of last year came and caused the work to be postponed.

More Time to Check Baggage.

The extension of time allowed for checking baggage will be considered by the railroad commission at a public hearing, to be held in the office of the commission in the state capitol, on November 20 at 10 o'clock.

Yesterday the following order on the subject was issued by Chairman McLendon:

Whereas, oral complaints from time to time reach the commission relative to rules and practice in checking baggage, it is—

Ordered: That this question be formally considered by the commission at its meeting to be held November 20, 1908, at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time the board will hear from any interested as to why it should or should not amend passenger rule No. 5 by allowing twenty-four hours free time for checking baggage instead of twelve.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW BIG INCREASE THIS YEAR

Ten Months of 1908 Show a Grand Total of $4,368,206, Gain of $312,175.

Atlanta is just a third of a million dollars ahead of the same time last year in building permits.

October, of this year, through yesterday, showed $229,302 in building permits had been issued. October, 1907, recorded the issuance of $228,286, a gain of $1,016 on the month. Considering the fact this has been the panic year and each month has shown an increase, the record has been quite satisfactory.

The ten months of 1908 show a grand total of $4,366,206, while the same number of months for 1907 show only $4,054,031, or a clear increase of $312,175.

Of this grand total for the present year only one large permit has been issued. Thtat was for the new postoffice, over $1,000,000. The other permits have been for substantial residences, dwellings and cottages, the best business barometer known. It is believed that the grand total of increases over the total of last year will be over $400,000.

Building Inspector Hayes is well pleased with the permits so far issued, and points with pride to believing it is the best record of any city in the south.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE OF THE Y. M. C. A. MEETS

The membership committee of the Central Young Men's Christian Association had a very enthusiastic meeting last evening around the supper table in the Y. M. C. A. building. H. C. Fairman, chairman of the committee, presided. Those present were: W. H. Fitzpatrick, Z. S. Cowan, P. H. Videtto, Dr. W. C. Bryant, W. E. Clark, L. D. Wilnoit, J. D. Collins, Jr., J. M. Cook, Edward Cregar, C. A. Bickerstaff, B. H. Wagnon, T. J. Holton, M. V. Callahan, C. L. Moses, E. L. Barnes, R. R. Jones, General Secretary Jackson, J. H. Smith, Educational Director Fry, S. E. Hening and C. E. Lovett.

After supper Mr. Fairman called on the recording secretary, Z. S. Cowan, for the minutes of the last meeting. The present membership standing of the association was asked for, and S. E. Hening presented the facts as follows:

Full paid seniors, 309; part paid seniors, 35; limited, 17; students, 57; complimentary, preachers, etc., 106; total men, 524; boys, 97; total membership October 29, 621.

LONDON TIMES IS GIVEN FACTS ABOUT GEORGIA

In response to a request from the London Times, Capt. R. E. Park, state treasurer, yesterday mailed a brief article about Georgia's financial status and economic laws, to be included in the new edition of the Encyclopaedia Brittanica.

The article contains some facts not generally known. He states:

Statistics show that while the population in Georgia doubles every forty years, the value of property doubles every twenty years, the assessed value of taxable property in 1907 being $691,851,592. A general property tax, which furnishes about four-fifths of the public revenue, has worked so inequitably that a board of equalization was appointed in 1901. This was repealed after only one year's trial.

By the constitution, the tax rate is limited to $5 on $1,000, and as the rate of taxation has increased faster than the taxable property, the state has been forced to contract several temporary loans since 1901, none of which has exceeded $200,000, the limit for each year set by the constitution.

On last January, 1907, the bonded debt was $7,231,006, mainly incurred by the extravagance of the reconstruction administration (see history). Each year $100,000 of this debt is paid off, and there are annual appropriations for the payment of interest (about $307,880 in 1907). The state owns a railroad 138 miles long, from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Atlanta, which has valuable terminal facilities in both cities, and which in 1907 was estimated to be worth $14,000,000, nearly twice the amount of the bonded debt.

Banking in Georgia is in a prosperous condition. The largest class of depositors are the farmers, who, more and more, look to the banks for credit instead of the merchant and cotton speculators. Hence the number of banks in agricultural districts is increasing.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

Prof. Andrew M. Soule, of the state college of agriculture, has written Commissioner of Agriculture Thomas G. Hudson, asking his attendance at as many as possible of the farmers' institutes arranged under the direction of the state college of agriculture.

The program of institutes so far arranged by the director of institutes include the following: Dallas, October 29; Jeffersonville, October 29; Perry, October 30; Marietta, October 30; Talbotton, October 31; Woodstock, October 31; Cedartown, November 5; Buena Vista, November 5; Lawrenceville, November 6; Arlington, November 6; Lexington, November 7; Pelham, November 7; McRae, November 12; Newnan, November 12; LaGrange, November 13; Baxley, November 13; Barnesville, November 14; Lyons, November 14; Dublin, November 19; Statesboro, November 20; Meldrim, November 21; Madison, November 28.

CONSTITUTION ECHOES

When Georgia Goes Republican.

(From The Fort Worth, Tex., Record.)

Georgia will go republican about the time that pigs will circle in airy flight about the capitol dome.

A Big Job.

(From The Unadilla Leader.)

The Constitution suggests that the presidential race be put back on a dignified basis. The job is too large and, besides, we common people are having too much fun.

Florida's Turn.

(From The Jacksonville Times-Union.)

The Atlanta Constitution says: "Florida cannot afford to laugh at the Georgia legislature. It has a legislature of its own." The Constitution is mistaken. Florida cannot afford to miss her opportunity of laughing now in retaliation for the fun that will be made at her expense next April.

A Scape-Goat Wanted.

(From The Unadilla Leader.)

"It seems a hard matter to find a scape-goat for that pump," remarks The Constitution. Fold it up nicely in your last year's pennant flag and drop it into a deep well.

REV. S. R. BELK TO TALK AT RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

A service of rare helpfulness and honest admonition will be held at the rooms of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association rooms, 31½ West Alabama street, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. S. R. Belk, of St. Mark's Methodist church, south, will be the speaker, and his subject will be "The Retributive Influence of Violated Law." Dr. Belk is one of the most earnest and forceful speakers of the city, and his treatment of this subject will challenge the thoughtful consideration of every man. A striking interest pervades these meetings always, and the service tomorrow will lead on to higher ground. The rooms are open during the day.

"HIRSCH" A HOPELESS WRECK

All Efforts to Save Her Have Been Abandoned.

Norfolk, Va., October 30.—The four-masted schooner Charles S. Hirsch, from Brunswick, Ga., for Baltimore, driven ashore on the North Carolina coast yesterday, is reported to be a hopeless wreck, and efforts to save her have been abandoned. The wind changed today and being off shore, the sailing vessels at sea off this coast are now out of danger.

Several larger sailing vessels put to sea today, among them the coal-laden schooners Dirige, from Baltimore, and the Acme, from Newport News. The passing out of the Dirige and Acme inaugurates a 13,000-mile ocean race between these vessels for San Francisco. They started in a favorable wind of 24 miles an hour.

250 POUNDS OF CANDY FOUND

Was Stolen From a Central of Georgia Freight Car.

Columbus, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) City detectives today found 250 pounds of fine candy hidden in a dense swamp on Bull creek, 2 miles from the city. The candy was stolen from a Central of Georgia railway freight car in Columbus last night.

To Protect the Game.

Montgomery, Ala., October 30.—(Special.)—Game and Fish Commissioner John H. Wallace, Jr., has sent out orders to county wardens to see that in the enthusiasm incident to the opening of the bird season on Monday the hunters do not exceed the laws. Care is to be taken that the bag is not to be excessive, that all hunters have licenses, and that game be not carried on trains by persons who have no license. Mr. Wallace says that by the time the next legislature comes, his department will have at least $60,000 to its credit. Up to the present there have been 110 convictions for violation of the game statutes.

Delay Ship for Election News.

Tokio, October 30.—In order that the prominent Americans who have taken passage on the steamer Mongolia may learn the result of the election in the United States, the departure of the vessel has been delayed a day, and she will sail on November 5. Among those who are leaving for the United States are Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Loomis and a number of the Pacific coast business men who visited Japan as representatives of Pacific coast chambers of commerce.

Low Water Delays Launching.

Settin, Germany, October 30.—The launching of the North German Lloyd liner George Washington, which is scheduled to take place tomorrow at the suburb of Stettin, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the lowness of the water in the river and Oder.

Georgia Postmasters.

Was Killed by Moving Train.

Columbus, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Fleming Thompson, a negro boy, 17 years of age, attempted to board a moving Central of Georgia freight train today, and slipped and fell under the wheels. One of his legs was cut off, and he was disembowled.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED FOR DR. LEN BROUGHTON

After a three months' tour abroad, teaching and preaching throughout England, Scotland and Wales, Dr. Len G. Broughton will sail on the 30th on the Kaiserine Augusta Victoria, of the Hamburg-American line, for home. He is expected to land in New York on November 6th in time to leave New York the same evening, reaching Atlanta in time to fill his pulpit in the Baptist Tabernacle on Sunday morning, November 8, and will preach both morning and evening.

Dr. Broughton has great things to tell on his return home, and not the least of these is the news of some arrangements he has made for the next Bible conference, to be held in March. He has succeeded in getting a strong force of teachers. Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, D. D., of London; Rev. H. Gregory Mantle, of Leeds, England, and Rev. Joseph Kemp, of Edinburgh, Scotland, three of the mightiest men of the present age in teaching the Bible, will be the principal speakers.

There will be special services at the Tabernacle all day Sunday, November 8, beginning with a prayer and praise service at 7 a. m., led by Dr. Broughton, and on Monday night there will be a great welcoming reception given to the pastor and his family by the church, to which the public is also most cordially invited. Program as follows:

7:00 a. m.—A prayer and praise meeting—Dr. Broughton presiding.

11:00 a. m.—Preaching by Dr. Broughton.

7:45 p. m.—Great song service, led by Mr. Boatman and his chorus, singing entirely new songs for this occasion.

8:30 p. m.—Preaching by Dr. Broughton; subject, "Two Months Preaching in England."

MONDAY PROGRAM.

6 to 7:30 p. m.—Hand-shaking given to pastor and family in lecture room of tabernacle by ladies of congregation. The ladies in charge will be Mrs. R. T. Stanfiel, president Ladies' Aid Society; Mrs. Wilson, president Ladies' Missionary Society; Mrs. W. H. Wiggs, president Board of lady managers Tabernacle Infirmary.

Public reception in the main auditorium 8 p. m. Everybody invited. Special program. R. N. Eickett, Sr., chairman of the board of deacons, presiding; E. C. Calloway, master of ceremonies.

MAY FURNISH FARMERS WITH WEATHER REPORTS

Conference was held yesterday by D. F. McClatchey, of the Southern Bell Telephone, and Assistant Forecaster Martin, of the weather bureau, which will tend in the near future to furnishing the farmers of the seven states in the south with the weather reports.

The telephone company has 300,000 subscribers in the farming districts, and the weather reports will be given to them every day just as soon as all arrangements between the government and the telephone company are completed. Under the present system through the rural free delivery the farmers don't receive the weather reports until late in the day. Under the new way, should it go into effect and be sanctioned by the department in Washington, the farmers within five minutes will know the forecasts.

Assistant Forecaster Martin was simply consulted by Mr. McClatchey regarding the matter. He seemed to think it a good plan.

Storm on New England Coast.

Boston, October 30.—The New England coast was visited today by a storm of wind and rain of greater severity than has been experienced since last winter. Numerous marine accidents were reported. The steamer City of Columbus, Savannah to Boston, anchored in the storm near the Stone Horse shoal. Her position was not sheltered and three life saving crews stood ready to go to her in case of need. The storm was well on its way toward Cape Race at noon.

RICHMOND GETS WIRZ MONUMENT

Will Be Placed Near That of Jefferson Davis.

FIGHT WAS VERY INTENSE

Savannah, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) Georgia is not to have the monument to Captain Henry Wirz, and the end of all the dispute about a location for it came today when the state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy decided to erect the monument in Richmond, Va., near that of Jefferson Davis, for whom the inscription on his monument declares he died rather than incriminate falsely the confederate president.

The decision was not reached without a hot fight, and the final vote favoring Richmond stood 40 to 36, Macon receiving the smaller number of votes. Americus was broached, but received only 24 votes. A telegram announces that the mayor and aldermen of Richmond are considering offering a site for the monument. A sharp fight arose when the question of obtaining funds to defray the expense of freighting the monument to Virginia was brought up, but by a small vote it was decided to allow each chapter to contribute its quota.

Without opposition West Point was selected for the next meeting place of the state convention. The convention adjourned tonight.

Regret in Americus.

Americus, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) Americus people deplore the action this afternoon of the convention of the Daughters of Confederacy in deciding to erect the Wirz monument in Richmond. Americus desired the monument here, but would willingly accord it to any Georgia city except Andersonville.

The monument lies completed in Clark's marble yard in Americus awaiting directions of the convention.

Eighteen hundred dollars additional will be the estimated cost of erecting the monument in Richmond.

FRIEND OF DUMB BRUTES SUFFERS FROM HICCOUGHS

Physicians in Charge of the Case Have Grave Fears for His Recovery.

Earl V. D. Haskell, friend of dumb brutes and special agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, lies very ill at the Wesley Memorial Hospital as the result of incessant hiccoughing, which started on last Monday. The physicians in charge of the case have grave fears over the outcome of the illness, and are not at all sure that the sick man will recover.

For about five weeks Haskell has persistently fought the sickness which has now laid him low. He would not consent to be removed to a hospital until the suffering became almost unbearable, saying all the while that he wanted to be at home with his wife. Thursday he reluctantly consented to enter the institution.

On this day he underwent a painful operation and seems somewhat improved. The physicians say he would probably have died had not the operation come when it did. An abscess was removed from the side. This trouble is thought to have superinduced the violent attack of hiccoughs.

Earl V. D. Haskell has many friends throughout the city and state who wish for his speedy recovery. His work for dumb brutes, always without compensation, has marked him as a man with an unusually warm heart. In many cases he has appeared in the police court to prosecute offenders of the law against the persecution of beasts. He is well known to the police and the city officials generally.

FAIR WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Prizes Awarded in Northeast Georgia Cotton and Corn Exhibition.

Gainesville, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) The Northeast Georgia Cotton and Corn exhibition, held at the Hall county court house, was a great success, notwithstanding the day was a very inclement one. The display of corn and cotton was pronounced to be extraordinarily fine, and the success of the first exhibition insures the permanency of the affair.

The prizes awarded were as follows:

CORN EXHIBIT.

Class A—Best ten ears corn, first prize, $6, J. M. Whelchel, R. 10, Gainesville, Ga.; best ten ears corn, second prize, $3, Dr. J. E. Miller, Gainesville, Ga.

Class B—Best individual ear corn, first prize, $3, Dr. J. E. Miller, Gainesville, Ga.; best individual ear corn, second prize, $2, J. M. Whelchel, R. 10, Gainesville.

Class C—Heaviest ear, first prize, $2, J. M. Whelchel, R. 10, Gainesville, Ga.

Class D—Best ten earns corn, juvenile, $2.50, Ruth Miller, Gainesville.

COTTON EXHIBIT.

Class B—Largest number bolls, first prize, $3, J. N. Thompson, R. 25, Hoschton; largest number bolls, second prize, $2, G. D. Lay, Gainesville.

Class C—Best sample lint, first and second prizes, $2 and $1, respectively, J. N. Thompson, R. 25, Hoschton.

A. D. Shamel and E. B. Boykin, of the bureau of plant industry, United States department of agriculture, who judged the exhibits, stated that the samples of corn and cotton shown reflected credit upon both the farmers and the soil of this section. Several counties, among them in addition to Hall being Jackson, Habersham, White, Forsyth and Dawson, were represented by fine exhibits. It is proposed to make the exhibition a permanency, and a county fair will be held in connection with it in the fall of 1909.

Chinese Army Maneuvers.

Pekin, October 30.—The regular autumn maneuvers of the Chinese army will be held this year in November. Preparations for the evolutions already are under way.

FRUIT GROWERS ARE TO MEET

Meeting Has Been Called for Next Wednesday at Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—The good work for the fruit growers started by The Constitution is to bear local fruit. There are many of the big growers of the state who have headquarters here and these are planning for work that will aid the state association, recently formed. All the growers in this district are called to meet at the offices of the chamber of commerce here next Wednesday afternoon to join in the state movement to form a fruit growers' exchange for the purpose of controlling the distribution of carload shipments of peaches.

The Augusta district grows about 400 cars of peaches and much other fruit. The local cooperation, it is pointed out, would greatly benefit not only those directly concerned, but all others in the state.

P. J. A. Berckmans is looking after the local movement and has the assistance of Berckmans Bros., W. M. Rowland, Jack Cranston, H. Gould Barrett, F. Phinizy, Warren Walker, John T. West and others of almost equal prominence in the state. Already over 2,000 cars are pledged to the exchange, and $100,000 capital has been raised by the promotors. A meeting of the state organization will be held in Sparta in a fortnight, when it is expected the fruit growers will all be ready to enter the movement heartily.

TENTH DISTRICT DOCTORS.

Interesting Program Arranged for Augusta Meeting.

Augusta, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Next Wednesday the physicians comprising the Tenth District Medical Society will meet in Augusta. An interesting program has been prepared. Dr. H. H. Muchel will deliver the welcome address, and Dr. J. R. Beall, of Blythe, will respond. Among the features of the program are:

Address of the president, Dr. T. D. Coleman, of Augusta; invocation, by Rev. Howard T. Cree, D. D., D. D.; address on gastric motility, by W. R. Houston, M. D., Atlanta; discussion on typhoid fever, led by Dr. R. J. Miller, of Tennille; the diagnosis of typhoid perforations, by Dr. W. M. Moore, of Augusta; report on an interesting case, by Dr. W. W. Pilcher, of Warrenton; litholopaxy, by Dr. W. H. Goodrich, of Augusta; discussion on treatment of pneumonia, by Dr. F. H. Philips, of Harlem; report of a case of cerebral abscess, by Dr. G. R. Maner, of Warrenton; some unusual obstetrical cases, by Dr. A. J. Kilpatrick, Augusta.

The afternoon session will conclude with a table d'hote lunch for visitors at the Commercial Club. In the evening the society will be the guests of the Richmond County Medical Society at a banquet served at the Genesta hotel.

CASE NOT YET ENDED.

Appeal Taken From the Verdict of Brown Lunacy Commission.

Savannah, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) The insane asylum will not yet receive Attorney T. B. Brown, of Savannah, who, a few days ago, was found insane by a lunacy commission before the court of ordinary. For the first time in years, an appeal has been taken from the verdict of a lunacy commission, and the case will be tried before a special jury in the superior court.

The request for an appeal was filed with the simple statement that Brown is dissatisfied with the finding of the court of ordinary. It is expected that his wife, who swore out the warrant against him, will take his side in the hearing of the appeal. Brown is being held a prisoner at the county jail until it is finally determined whether he will be sent to Milledgeville.

ADJOURNED TERM FOR LINTON CASE

Thorough and Complete Investigation Will Be Made by Court.

WILL GET ANOTHER JUDGE

Judge Mitchell Has Announced That He Is Disqualified by His Kinship to Miss Linton From Presiding in the Case.

Thomasville, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Judge Mitchell announced at the conclusion of today's session of the superior court that he would adjourn after passing sentence tomorrow on convicted prisoners, until the fifth Monday in November. At this time a thorough and complete investigation will be made by the court of the Mitchell-Linton case, and the sensational cases for which the grand jury brought indictments.

Judge Mitchell announced that he would procure a judge from another circuit to preside, as he was disqualified by his kinship to Miss Linton from presiding. Just who the judge will be cannot be determined now. The matter will by that time be ready for investigation from the state's side, and witnesses are being subpenaed to appear at that time. The fact that they are all over the state, and some even out of the state, makes it impossible to be prepared for the case at short notice. The announcement of the adjourned term has caused satisfaction in this city from all sides, and the trial is awaited with great interest. The fact that startling evidence is said to be in hand makes the case all the more exciting.

TOOK HIS GUN AND BEAT HIM.

Farmer Was Attacked by Three Negroes and Almost Killed.

Montgomery, Ala., October 30.—J. J. Martin, a farmer, near Mott's mill, in Russell county, was almost killed by three negroes yesterday. Martin found the negroes dressing one of his hogs. When they saw that they were caught, the negroes turned on him, took his gun and beat him senseless with it.

John Gatewood, one of the negroes, was caught and is held at Phenix City. The other two escaped into Georgia. Much feeling is reported among white. Martin may die.

New Feat of Wireless.

Seattle, Wash., October 30.—For the first time in the history of the wireless, a steamer between San Francisco and Honolulu has been in communication with both stations at the same time. This took place aboard the steamer Lurline, of the Matson Navigation Company, which talked at the same time to both ports when 1,400 miles out of San Francisco, bound for Honolulu.

NEGRO WAS ELECTROCUTED.

He Committed Criminal Assault on Young White Girl.

Richmond, Va., October 30.—Winston Green, a negro youth, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary today for attempted criminal assault upon a young white girl of Chesterfield county. After his conviction he made a full confession.

Today also was set for the electrocution of John Finney, a negro, for a similar crime, but it having been found that he is feeble-minded, the governor a few days ago commuted his sentence to imprisonment for life.

SOCIETY

Hallowe'en Luncheon.

Mrs. John D. Little was the charming hostess at luncheon yesterday, her guests numbering ten, and invited at 2 o'clock.

The decorations artistically symbolized the season of Hallowe'en. The dining room was darkened and the mellow light produced by tapers, in silver candlesticks, and under yellow shades, suggesting the light of the harvest moon. The shadows from the foliage of the full yellow chrysanthemums filling a silver loving cup in the center of the table, added to the mysterious atmosphere of the fairy-sized figures of two witches, supposedly stirring, in tiny pots, the all-powerful love potion. Nearby were the proverbial good luck black cats in miniature size, and appearing quite lifelike in their black wooly coats.

Lights showed through the eyes of little pumpkin Jack-o-lanterns, and the place cards were painted in a design showing the moon, the proverbial owl and the pumpkin head, all with one eye open on the mysteries of Hallowe'en. Crystal baskets held delicious bonbons in yellow; the cakes embossed in that color, and the ices were in yellow.

Throughout the house chrysanthemums were used as a decoration, those of the deep-rose hue filling crystal vases in the drawing room.

Yellow chrysanthemums decorated the reception room, and in the library were dahlias of all colors, from the garden of the charming young hostess. The guests were: Mrs. Alex Smith, Mrs. Victor Smith, Mrs. Carrol Payne, Mrs. Howard Bucknell, Mrs. Henry Bankhead, Mrs. Frank Inman, Mrs. Robert Maddox, Mrs. John Grant, Mrs. Robert Alston.

Mrs. Little's gown was a beautiful creation in black satin, made directoire fashion, and embroidered. The corsage had a pointed yoke in tulle, and the sleeves were of similar fashion.

Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. William McClelland and Mrs. Frank Baker will entertain at bridge next Thursday afternoon at Mrs. McClelland's home in compliment to Miss Edith Cofield.

To Miss Cofield.

Misses Gertrude and Lee Brandon will entertain at bridge next Friday afternoon in compliment to Miss Edith Cofield.

To Miss Thompson.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Central Presbyterian church will tender an informal reception to Miss Mary Thompson in the church parlors this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Thompson leaves soon as a missionary to China, and all ladies and the members of the congregation are cordially invited.

Hallowe'en Party.

The young ladies of the Second Baptist church will give a Hallowe'en party Saturday night at 8 o'clock at 98 Crew street, and a general invitation is extended. A small admission will be charged.

House Warming.

A beautiful entertainment Thursday night was the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. William Schley Howard, the occasion in the nature of a house warming.

The handsome new home between Kirkwood and Decatur is built in colonial style, and its interior finish is in soft dark green and old ivory, except in the dining room, where the woodwork is mahogany.

The entire lower floor except the dining room was thrown together Thursday night for dancing, and an elaborate decoration of ferns and yellow chrysanthemums was used in the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. The centerpiece on the round mahogany table was a large vase of white chrysanthemums, and all the color details were white and green.

Punch was served by Misses Elizabeth Dunwoody, Jean and Kate Robinson, and they wore dainty lingerie dresses.

A pretty feature of the evening was the christening of the house by Miss Gertrude Brown. She called the new home Heywood, after the original Howard estate in England, and she made the little ceremony a most graceful one. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Howard presented her with a cut glass loving cup as a souvenir of the occasion.

Mrs. Howard was a charming hostess, wearing a cream crepe and lace gown. Her mother, Mrs. Gauvernale, of Mexico, was gowned in black silk, and Mr. Howard's mother, Mrs. Sue Howard, wore black silk and lace. Miss Brown wore a directoire gown of light blue chiffon cloth and lace.

An orchestra provided bright dance music, and prizes which had been planned for a game of cards proving unnecessary in view of the greater attraction of dancing, they were presented to the two most graceful dancers. The voting was a merry feature of the evening, and the prizes, a cut glass puff box and a leather collar and cuff box, were awarded to Miss Rosa Milledge and Mr. Paul Vose.

Hallowe'en Entertainment.

There will be something interesting for both old and young at the All-hallowe'en party to be given at Mrs. F. E. Brownell's home, 196 West Peachtree, today, October 31, from 2:30 to 6.

The witch will put her broom to a good use, the pumpkins will tell secrets and the apples will prove good divers.

Only one small fee will be charged to enter all the games, and a prize will be given to each successful winner.

Among those assisting Mrs. Brownell are Miss S. E. Estill, who will preside over the tea table; Mrs. W. M. Francis, at the cake table; Mrs. Joseph Beardsley, at the candy table. The Misses Emma Harding, Eugenia Estill and Daisy Dixon will have charge of the games.

The proceeds will be given to the music fund for the Church of Our Father, now being raised by the Woman's Alliance. A liberal patronage is asked and a pleasant time promised to all who attend.

Club Reception.

An event of social interest in West End next Friday night will be the large reception to be given by the Tuesday Evening Domino Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McEachern.

They will entertain three hundred guests, and the occasion will be one of elaborate beauty.

The members of the club, besides Mr. and Mrs. McEachern, are:

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. M. Quillian, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Heifner, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. George Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster.

'Possum Hunt.

A "'possum hunt" is planned for tonight at East Lake, a number of young men who spent the summer at the Athletic Club house and neighboring cottages being the hosts of the occasion, and their guests a number of young ladies.

To Mrs. Fleet.

Mrs. Kenneth Gordon Matheson will entertain at afternoon tea on Wednesday of next week in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Seddon Fleet, who has recently come to live in Atlanta.

Informal Tea.

Mrs. Harold Moore entertained eight or ten young women at afternoon tea yesterday, inviting them to bring their sewing. The occasion was one of happy informality.

To Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. W. E. Wimpey gave a delightful spend-the-day party this week in compliment to Mrs. W. A. Richards, of New York, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. O. Jones for a week. She is now with Mrs. W. S. Everett, and will remain in Atlanta for the winter.

Evening Concert.

A concert will be given next Wednesday night at Marist college hall by Mrs. Benjamin Elsas, soprano; Mr. Kurt Mueller, pianist; Mr. Erwin Mueller, violinist, and Mr. J. Fowler Richardson will play the accompaniments.

The occasion will be a benefit for the boys' club of St. Luke's Sunday school, and tickets will be on sale at Phillips & Crew's.

Hallowe'en Cotillion.

Seventy-five guests were entertained last night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cooney in honor of Miss Eleanor Meeks, of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Mary Flynn, of Pittsburg, the occasion one of great pleasure and artistic detail.

The guests were received at 9 o'clock in the living room, where an atmosphere of homelikeness was given in decorations of variegated chrysanthemums filling bowls and vases. After an informal reception, dancing was enjoyed until 11 o'clock, when the guests were seated at one elaborately decorated table in the shape of the Hallowe'en "T"—the T the girls mean when, in their prayers Hallowe'en night, they say, "I place my shoes in the form of a 'T,' and I hope in my dreams my true love to see."

The size of the table admitted of elaborate decorations, in which the shades of the dahlia shone out in their vivid hues from dark purplish red to the softer shades of roses.

There were plateaux of dahlias, and baskets filled with them, and a soft light thrown over all from the tapers under red shades and held by silver candlesticks.

Silver baskets held bonbons, fruits and candies, and the ices were served from baskets of spun candy, the handles wreathed in flowers.

At each place was a pumpkin Jack-o'-lantern, which each guest carried in the ball room for the first figure of the cotillion, which was danced in the mysterious light of the individual lanterns and that from the larger lanterns hung from the ceiling. Later, in a bright light, beautiful decorations in yellow chrysanthemums were evident, these filling tall vases and placed in banks of fern in the corners of the room.

Mr. Joseph Brown Connally led the cotillion, and many beautiful figures were introduced. In one of these the ladies carried directoire sticks decorated with clusters of roses, or chrysanthemums or lilies. In another they were presented with Elizabeth ruffs of different colors.

In a marching figure Japanese fans were the gentlemen's favors, and the ladies carried Japanese umbrellas.

Chrysanthemums were the favors in another figure, and as souvenirs of the occasion the ladies were given gold pins and the gentlemen silver pencils and cigar cutters.

Confetti and poppers added to the merriment of the concluding figures.

Mrs. Cooney, the handsome young hostess, wore a dancing gown of white tulle elaborately embroidered in silver sequins, showing at intervals clusters of green and bronze sequins.

Miss Meeks, the lovely debutante honored, wore an exquisite frock of white tulle, sparkling with silver dewdrops.

Miss Flynn was elegantly gowned in black tulle embroidered in gold.

Mrs. Simmons was lovely in white chiffon cloth and lace.

Mrs. J. K. Ottley wore a directoire gown of white chiffon painted in flowers in the rose shades.

To Miss Keeline.

Miss Mildred Spratling's bridge party yesterday morning was an informal affair of much enjoyment in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Adair's guest, Miss Keeline, of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Several visiting young women were invited to meet the guest of honor, and they were served a delicious hot luncheon after the game. The house decorations were of ferns and chrysanthemums, and Miss Keeline won the prize, silk stockings.

To Miss Lee.

Miss Olive Shropshire's luncheon yesterday was one of the prettiest parties in compliment to Miss Laura Lee and her guests, Misses LaBeaume, Smith and Runyan, of St. Louis, and Miss Hodges, of Chicago.

The luncheon table was artistic in pink, the centerpiece a basket of roses. Pink tulle was drawn down from the chandelier to silver candelabra and tied to them in big bows. The cakes and candies were pink; the ices were pink roses, and the place cards were hand-painted Cupids.

Miss Shropshire was gowned in tan crepe de chine and lace, with a finish of blue.

Boys' Club Party Tonight.

The Boys' Club will be entertained at a Hallowe'en tacky party in their club house, on Trinity avenue, this evening.

Games, ghost stories, Hallowe'en sports and music will be enjoyed. The costumes will be quite a feature of the occasion, a number of prizes having been offered for the best ones.

The boys are anticipating a great time.

Success of Chrysanthemum Show

In purest white, in pale pink, in sunlight yellow, in variegated tints, and even in green, the chrysanthemum reigned supreme at the flower show yesterday. Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson was the star exhibitor, and the show was the largest and most beautiful ever given in Atlanta. Mrs. Albert Herring, chairman of the flower committee of the Atlanta Woman's Club, under the auspices of which committee the show was given, was being enthusiastically congratulated on the merits of the show, intended to stimulate, as it has, the growing of flowers by Atlanta homekeepers.

There were many exhibits, all beautiful, and the judges were busy from 9:30 until 12 o'clock making their decisions, which were as follows:

First Entry—Best twelve blooms, not less than three varieties, $5 in gold, president's prize, Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson.

Second best twelve blooms, not less than three varieties, vase, given by Eugene Haynes, Mrs. Frank Cox.

Third best twelve blooms, not less than three varieties, picture, given by Cole Book Company, Mrs. S. Dobbs.

Second Entry—Best eight pinks, brass candlestick, given by Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose Company, Mrs. Goss.

Third Entry—Best eight yellows, rock crystal vase, given by Charles Crankshaw, Mrs. Bogman.

Fourth Entry—Best eight whites, hand-painted vase, given by Edward Lycett, Mrs. Wilkinson.

Fifth Entry—Best six novelties or unusual looking chrysanthemums, vase, given by Jacobs' Pharmacy, Mrs. S. C. Dobbs.

Sixth Entry—Best six Appletons, picture, given by Sam Walker, Mrs. Murray.

Seventh Entry—Best eight Mosemans, bronze or red chrysanthemums, vase, given by Davis & Freeman, Mrs. Warren Candler.

Eighth Entry—Best one bloom, $1, Mrs. S. C. Dobbs; second best one bloom, 50 cents, Mrs. Murray.

The Green Chrysanthemum.

The green chrysanthemum was the novelty of the show. It was delicately tinted as if fresh sea water had passed over it and left a faint reflection of color. It was full and large and shone out in the cluster of white blooms, themselves prize winners.

Of the Appletons, those of vivid yellow, there were many to be seen, as the "All-hallowe'en" flower, while in the pale pink variety one has been christened the "Mrs. Albert Herring."

The variegated exhibit was a collection of trying flowers themselves in color, combining the season's fad for old gold and rose in the blending of several flowers.

There were fewer white flowers than any others exhibited, but they were perfect as to quality.

The flowers were sold after the show, which had a deservedly large patronage. The free will offerings made at the door were turned over to the fund for the Rabun Gap and Tallulah schools for mountain boys and girls.

WESTMORELAND-DEGIVE WEDDING THIS MORNING

A quiet wedding this morning will be that of Miss Gertrude Westmoreland and Mr. Jules DeGive, which will take place at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Park Woodward, the bride's uncle and aunt.

The ceremony at 10 o'clock will be performed by Father Gunn, and will be witnessed only by the two families, Dr. R. W. Westmoreland, the bride's father, will give her in marriage, and the only attendant will be her sister, Miss Elizabeth Westmoreland. Mrs. Roscoe Hugh Hearn, her cousin, will play the wedding march.

The bride will wear a tailor gown of Copenhagen blue broadcloth with a black hat trimmed with blue wings, and she will carry a bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies. Her maid of honor will wear a cream messaline gown with a black picture hat, and her bouquet will be of yellow chrysanthemums.

The house will have an artistic decoration in palms and yellow chrysanthemums, and breakfast will be served after the ceremony. The table in the dining room will have for its centerpiece a tall vase of yellow chrysanthemums, silver candelabra will burn yellow candles under yellow shades, and all the color details will be yellow.

Mr. DeGive and his bride leave at 11 o'clock for the east, and returning they will make their home for the present at the Grand.

The marriage, while a quiet one, will center a wide social interest, and the cordial good wishes of a large acquaintance.

Miss Westmoreland is a young woman of unusual beauty and cuture, and of an attractive dignity of carriage and manner. She is a musician of attainment and has the womanly as well as the social graces that make friends.

Mr. DeGive, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent DeGive, is one of the most prominent young men in Atlanta's business world, and he has a host of friends here and elsewhere to congratulate him.

Heart Dice Party.

Miss Mabel Carline and Miss Eva Drewry won the prizes, a ruche and a hat pin, at the heart dice party given yesterday by Mrs. Forrest Palmer and Mrs. Boykin Hay in compliment to Miss Mary Myrtis Corker and Miss Elise Landrum.

White and yellow chrysanthemums were used in a handsome decoration of the house, and white and yellow were the colors observed in many attractive details.

Mrs. Hay was becomingly gowned in green silk and lace. Mrs. Palmer wore a striped silk gown in cream and gray with a finish in blue. Miss Landrum wore a white cloth suit with a black picture hat. Miss Corker wore a princess dress of blue silk and a black picture hat.

Politics and Religion.

"Politics and Religion of France" today will be the subject of the lecture to be given by Mme. Oscar Sifler at the Carnegie library this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

TRIBUTE PAID TO DR. J. W. LEE

His Board of Stewards Asks Conference to Return Him as Pastor.

That Dr. J. W. Lee, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church for seven years, four years at the occasion of his first assignment here twenty-three years ago, and three years during his present service, has won the love and respect of his congregation was made patent Thursday night when the board of stewards of the church, numbering fifty, unanimously signed a petition to the North Georgia conference that he be returned.

The quarterly conference referred to is the last before the annual conference, when the ministers are to be reassigned for the ensuing year.

As Dr. Lee has already served three years, it is the wish of his congregation that he be returned for the fourth year, which is all he can serve without a change.

At the stewards' meeting, W. A. Foster introduced a resolution couched in strong terms indorsing Dr. Lee, and thanking him for efficient and conscientious work he has done in developing the great work of the church. He declared in offering this resolution he believed he expressed the sentiment of the 1,600 members of the congregation.

The fact that the entire board of stewards has signed a petition asking for his return leads his congregation to believe that the request will be granted.

There are few more popular pastors in the churches of Atlanta than Dr. Lee, and this action was a deserved tribute on the part of his devoted congregation.

DRUG STORE QUALITY

TWENTY years ago the "quality" drug store service of Atlanta and vicinity originated with Elkin-Watson, and TODAY we maintain our twenty-year lead.

All the innovations that COUNT were first instituted here. The absolute law of drug purity; the employment of licensed, practiced Prescriptionists; the prompt free delivery; the all-night service, and the reduction of prices to the very lowest possible mark which wholesale market prices allow. Let this determine your patronage.

THE WEATHER; FAIR AND COOL

Frosts Have Formed in the South---Heavy Some Places.

The weather: Fair and cool today. Heavy to killing frosts have formed in Alabama and Mississippi, and light frosts in other parts of the cotton belt.

"I waited a long while, but I have finally done did it," said the Gopher. "I have sent along my campaign contribution. 'Of course, I gave a dollar for Bryan. I am going to vote for him, see if I do not. This is a telling campaign, and the most I can tell you about it is that Mister Bryan is certainly getting Mister Taft mighty scared. Nothing like it. ORATORICAL DEBATES.

Mercer Takes Up the Matter of Reviving Oratorical Association.

Macon, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Prof. J. S. Murray, chairman, and Dr. J. G. Harrison, secretary of the general council on debate at Mercer University, today took up communication with different colleges of the state for the purpose of reviving the State Oratorical Association for intercollegiate purposes. As early as a meeting can be had, efforts will be made to start the association so that contests in oratory may be scheduled with the leading institutions competing. Dr. Harrison and Professor Murray consider the movement as in line with other leading states, and there will be a number of other college men anxious to revive the interest that formerly prevailed.

Will Speak for Watson.

Covington, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Hon. Phil Davis, a prominent young member of the Atlanta bar, will speak in Covington on Saturday in the interest of the Watson and Williams ticket.

CORPORATIONS MUST REGISTER

Over 2,800 Will Have to Get Busy During the Day.

This is the last day for corporations doing business in Georgia to register.

Unless all corporations, foreign and domestic, register with the secretary of state by the time the office closes today, each and every one will be subject to a fine of $50. The secretary of state is authorized to collect this fine by executions on their property.

There are some 3,000 corporations in Georgia which are required to thus register their business. Up to date only 718 have registered. No class of corporations except banks, which are under the jurisdiction of the state treasurer, are exempt.

Others are required to register with the secretary of state each year their corporate name, its principal place of business, when, where and by what authority incorporated, the character of its business and the amount of its capital.

The initial registration fee is $1. Afterwards the fee is 50 cents.

POLICE LOOKING FOR "SPEEDERS"

Policemen Are Ordered to Keep Watchful Eye on Autos.

"Auto fiends had better keep a sharp lookout from now on if they expect to scorch through the streets."

This is the slogan of the Atlanta police department as adopted since an order of yesterday, in which the police were instructed to be more than ever on the alert for offenders against the law.

It is said that the autoists have of late disregarded the city ordinance to such an extent that the abuse of the autoing privilege has assumed alarming proportions. Over hill and down dale, through the highways and byways, and everywhere there is a level stretch, the rushing, crushing vehicles have exercised the right of way to the limit.

The matter has been brought to the attention of the police department so often and from so many sources that the instructions followed.

Auto owners with speeding proclivities should, therefore, keep a sharp lookout in future.

May Die From Injuries.

Pensacola, Fla., October 30.—News reached here today of the complete destruction of the sawmill at Boggy, Fla., a small place east of Pensacola, yesterday by the explosion of the boilers. Engineer Bostick, who was near the boilers, was so badly injured that it is not believed he can live, a piece of metal striking him in the forehead.

FAIN PURCHASES LOT FROM PAYNE

Property on Marietta and John Streets Brings $25,000.

THREE-STORY WAREHOUSE

Fitzhugh Knox, Who Made the Sale, Made Contract With Mr. Fain to Erect on the Property Warehouse to Cover Entire Lot.

Fitzhugh Knox, the well-known real estate dealer and builder, on yesterday put through a trade involving $50,000, probably the biggest real estate transfer of the day.

Mr. Knox, representing J. Carroll Payne, sold to W. L. Fain the corner lot at Marietta and John streets, one mile from the union depot, out Marietta street, for approximately $25,000.

Immediately after making the sale Mr. Knox made a contract with Mr. Fain to erect thereon a three-story warehouse of mill construction, to cover the entire lot, with handsome stores facing Marietta street.

The fact the site faces Marietta street and runs through to the Western and Atlantic Railroad tracks makes the situation doubly advantageous. The lot faces 163 feet on Marietta street and runs back a depth of 148 feet on John street.

Considering the fact this is not central property, but is a mile from the center of the city, the constantly increasing land value in Atlanta is appreciated.

Mr. Knox, in addition to his real estate transfers, is doing a great building business besides. With his own architects and contractors, he is building residence on Myrtle, Piedmont avenue and West Peachtree street to the amount of $25,000.

Brantley at Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, Ga., October 30.—(Special.) Congressman Brantley, of the eleventh district, addressed a mass meeting here Thursday night under the auspices of the Ben Hill Bryan Club. Mr. Brantley is well known to the people of Fitzgerald, and always draws a large audience. His address upon the issues of the campaign was listened to with attention and was enthusiastically indorsed by the Bryan supporters.

Told Not to Demand Poll Tax.

Little Rock, Ark., October 30.—Governor Pindall and Secretary of State Ludwig today issued a circular to all election judges in the state who will serve Tuesday, notifying them not to demand poll tax requirements for voting. It is feared if the poll tax is required, it would give the republicans a chance for a contest in congress, and the possible seating of republican candidates by a republican congress.

BROWN ATTENDS THOMAS FAIR

Was Given Enthusiastic Reception and Spent Delightful Day.

Thomasville, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—The Thomas county farmers' fair closed today with a most delightful program. Races and Olympic games by the Young Men's Christian Association students occurred in the morning; band concert, auction of exhibits and races came in the afternoon, and an enormous confetti battle and band concert in the evening, occurred at the park. About three thousand visitors were in the city each day from all south Georgia. The exhibits were splendid, and there was no disorder. Everybody had a good time.

Hon. Jospeh Brown was a guest of the fair this afternoon, but he made no speech. He spent the time shaking hands with the farmers and their families. The children crowded around him, throwing confetti at him. He came over from Bainbridge, and returned to Cairo tonight. The fiddlers' convention attracted thousands.

Fell Dead Eating Supper.

Augusta, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—W. H. Fellows, of Mechanicsville, N. Y., fell dead while eating supper tonight at his boarding house here. Heart disease was the cause. Fellows had been here a week and nothing is known about his family. He was a Knight of Pythias and the local lodges have taken charge of his remains pending answers to telegrams sent to Mechanicsville.

THE SONS OF ROOSEVELT

Kermit Roosevelt, the president's second son, follows his father and his elder brother in turning to Harvard for his collegiate education. The young man is enrolled as a freshman in the class of 1912. Theodore junior, who left college last spring, embarks upon his business career in a large carpet manufactory in Connecticut. His purpose is to learn the business thoroughly, and with that in view is in the wool sorting department.

THEATERS

At the Grand.

Just comedy, with some slight villainy mixed with it, and, of course, love was "The Woman's Hour," as seen at the Grand last night, with Miss Adelaide Thurston in the leading role.

At first the play did not seem as if it were going to take such a pleasing turn, for it almost dragged—but soon, in fact, sooner than any one expected, the real mirth entered, and occupied every one's attention to the very last. The last was amusing, too. It was one of those scenes where "lovey and dovey" intermingle and intertwine hugs and kisses.

The woman's hour comes when she advances $100,000 to save the man she loves from absolute ruin. There is some trickery forced into the situation by enemies, but the good angel comes upon the scene and blasts the hopes of the terrible villains. All ends well.

Miss Thurston, as "The Woman," bore herself admirably. She has those "cunning" ways women speak of so much. Throughout the entire play her manner was just as natural as if she were living the thoughts she spoke. Frederick Paulding, The Man, was very good, and for a man who has been playing Shakespearean plays nearly all of his life, to make such a showing in comedy is saying a great deal. Miss Carolina Newcomb, as Maggie Tarby, the maid for The Woman, was the hit of the evening. Her outbursts of the well-known east side slang brought forth a great many uproars, especially when she said she "would go to h—l" for her mistress.

The stage setting and scenery should have especial mention, for they caught the eye of every one. The costumes were what the feminine sex denote as "extremely gorgeous."

"The Woman's Hour" is really a high-class comedy, and well performed.

R. A. S. J.

Corinne.

The Grand will have Corinne on Monday and Tuesday in a new comedy with music entitled "Lola from Berlin," by John J. McNally. In the new play Corinne has realized one of her ambitions, that of playing a serio-comic role. The foundation of the complications of the new play are based on two advertisements, one inserted in a Berlin paper and the other in a New York paper. In the former the lawyer advertises for the heir of a wealthy German recently deceased in America. In the latter Mrs. Westervelt advertises for a house servant.

At the Lyric.

"In Old Kentucky" will be presented for two more performances at the Lyric, matinee this afternoon and a final performance tonight. The attraction has scored heavily and drawn large audiences and will be remembered as one of the most pleasing attractions of the season.

"Shore Acres," that ever welcome rural play written by the late James A. Herne, is to be presented at the Lyric all next week with the famous character actor, Archie Boyd, playing the leading part.

At the Bijou.

The attraction at the Bijou, commencing with a matinee Monday afternoon, will be Sam A. Scribner's big show, which is heralded as the most expensive musical extravaganza company before the public today. The show has been called a combination of vaudeville and musical extravaganza. The company numbers something over fifty people.

"The Golden Crook" is continuing to draw splendid audiences to the Bijou and patrons of that theater have classed this attraction as one of the most entertaining of the season at the popular theater.

At the Orpheum.

This afternoon and tonight at the Orpheum close the engagement of Una Clayton and her company and the rest of the attractions which have made vaudeville lovers happy all the week. But beginning Monday afternoon a new bill comes, headed by Monsieur Pauline, the famous French hypnotist, who offers novel tests in this strange science. Pauline has achieved an enviable record on the stage and is not to be classed with the charlatans who depend upon trickery for their effects. He claims to be a scientist, disdains to assert supernatural power or "magic" and volunteers to prove his claims by experiments upon members of his audience. On Tuesday night the Orpheum will give a special late performance, beginning at 11 o'clock, when the election returns will be given between the vaudeville acts.

Compelled to Say

"I Feel Better"

"I am compelled to say I feel better than I have felt in 10 years," writes Carrie Halloway, of Coronaco, S. C.: "Every month," she continues, "I used to have to take to my bed for 5 days. One day my sister brought me a bottle of Cardui and begged me to try it. Today I will say that Cardui is my doctor and I don't need any other doctor in my home."

You need Cardui in your home, today, because, taken at the proper time, it will prevent much suffering, and help to keep you in a condition of health.

All women need Cardui sometimes, and when they need it they need it badly. Better keep a bottle handy, so as to be able to take it when you do need it.

Cardui is just a pure vegetable extract. It contains no minerals or poisonous or dangerous ingredients, is non-intoxicating, and harmless to young and old.

It has been found to relieve female pains, like headache, backache, sideache, irregularities, and other symptoms of womanly disorders, which every woman knows.

Cardui is pleasant to take, acts gently, naturally, and without any bad after-effects.

Its results have been found to be lastingly beneficial. Try Cardui.

PASSED NIGHT ON STREETS.

Mrs. Annie Hamilton Wandered Near Jail Where Son Is Held.

Sobbing for her convicted son, Charles Hamilton, the young man who was Tuesday sentenced by Judge Roan to five years in the penitentiary for complicity in the robbery of the Eiseman Brothers' store, Mrs. Annie Hamilton, of 27 Rock street, yesterday morning was brought to the station house by Sergeant Chewning and Bicycle Officers Wood and Camp, from near the corner of Butler street and East Hunter. The old woman had spent the night roaming about the streets and in quest of her son, whom she believed, in her distorted mental state, was lost. She was found on an embankment, a short ditsance from the jail, where her son was incarcerated.

Police Captain Norman took charge of Mrs. Hamilton, and put her under the care of Matron Bohnefeld, until the arrival of her daughter, who took her away.

Mrs. Hamilton stated that she thought the detectives swore falsely against her son at the trial, and she wanted to see Judge Roan and Chief of Detectives Jett and secure his release.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Hamilton, who was once wealthy, fainted in the court room the other day at the trial of her son, and during the speech of Solicitor Hill she was taken from the room and revived.

Will Receive Juan Barrios.

Keely-Ziegler Shoes

If they are not the best in the world for the money then we give up our guess on Shoes. We've been proud of Keely-Ziegler Shoes for thirty years. Prouder than ever of them today. No slow hold-over stock; no mingling of measly makes; everything bright, fresh, new. A bigger, better variety of styles than ever before.

Assimilate all the truth you may find in the Shoe advertising of the day concerning qualities and prices, then test Keely-Ziegler's by it and you'll find all and more fulfilled.

A word about our guarantee. What do we do when the buyer complains and the Shoes are defective? We put the loss where it belongs--on the manufacturer. But so regular and reliable are his products that during recent years claims of customers based on our liberal policy of making good have averaged only three a year. Our guarantee really shields you.

We couldn't afford to trifle with your confidence behind a sham guarantee.

NEGROES ORDERED TO LEAVE.

Mother and Brothers of Negro Boy Given Four Hours.

Savannah, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—White citizens of Pooler, ten miles from Savannah, where Wednesday morning 12-year-old Solomon Reilly, colored, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Lizzie Torrance, yesterday ordered the boy's mother and brothers to leave this section of the country, giving them four hours in which to go. At the end of the time of grace the negro family had disappeared. Other negro families that have representatives on the list of Chatham county prisoners are moving away, it is said. Reilly's brother, Richard, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary last March for snatching a purse from a well-known Savannah woman in a crowded street. Solomon Reilly was indicted for murder at a special session of the grand jury, called by Forman Guckenheimer, when he feared that threats of lynching would result in an attempt to storm the jail. The trouble seems to have been averted with the disappearance of the Reilly family, and nothing further is expected from the threats.

Released From Quarantine.

Pensacola, Fla., October 30.—The British steamship Hollingside, which arrived at the quarantine station with the captain and a number of the crew sick with African malaria fever, was released from quarantine today and anchored in the harbor, where she will take on a cargo.

The men state that the crew of the vessel, stopping at port of Dakar, Africa, during the past summer, was attacked with the fever, owing to the drinking water from a river at that port.

Former Premier Dead.

Ottawa, Ontario, October 30.—The Hon. Thomas Greenway, former premier of Manitoba, and recently appointed a member of the Canadian railroad commission, died here today, aged 70 years. He had been ill for a fortnight.

PROTEST AGAINST SALE.

Important Meeting Soon of South and North Stockholders.

Montgomery, Ala., October 30.—The fate of a railroad may hang in the meeting of the stockholders of the South and North road, which has been called for November 28, in this city. Certain minority shareholders are protesting against the sale of the property to the Louisville and Nashville, which owns 90 per cent of the stock, among them Henry B. Gray, a banker of Birmingham and lieutenant governor of the state.

As a result, the voting strength of the major corporation is tied up by injunction, and it may be years before the tangle is unraveled. The South and North is the main line between the Louisville and Nashville system to the south, being all that part between Montgomery and Decatur, Ala., which includes the rich Birmingham district.

TECH PLAYS TENNESSEE TODAY

Edited by Dick Jemison

TENN. AND TECH READY FOR FRAY

Every Player on Both Teams Is in Great Shape

Volunteers Arrived Last Night After a Signal Practice at Marietta in the Afternoon—Large Crowd Expected to Turn Out.

That one of the greatest football scraps that has ever been pulled off on a southern gridiron will be the attraction at Ponce de Leon this afternoon is no more a matter of opinion, but a fact. Both Tennessee and Tech are ready for the fray, and every player on both teams is in the best of shape.

One of the largest if not the largest crowd that has ever attended a football game in Atlanta will be on hand, if the advance sale of tickets and the number of football fans of the city who have expressed their intention of seeing the game can be taken as a basis to judge the crowd by. It is estimated that the stands at Ponce de Leon will be filled when the whistle blows for the first half to commence.

How strong Tennessee is cannot be judged except by reports that have been sent out, which have read that the Volunteers have got one of the best teams in their history, with every player on the squad in good condition and ready for the battle.

The Volunteers arrived in Marietta over the Louisville and Nashville railroad yesterday afternoon, and, after donning their football togs, took about two hours of signal practice before coming into Atlanta at 6 o'clock last night.

The team is stopping at the Aragon, and every man looks as fresh and tried as a gridiron warrior should look. Assistant Coach Gaut said: "Every man on the squad is in good shape and ready to play the game of their lives. We are going to do our utmost to win. The men have been working hard for this game, and are confident they will put up a good fight, and one that will bring them victory."

The Yellow Jackets closed up their scrimmage practice Thursday afternoon, and yesterday signals were practiced for the entire afternoon, and every man is in good shape for the fray, except Emerson, who is still suffering a little from his back, which was hurt in the Mississippi game, still he may be able to start the game.

Comparison of Players.

A comparison of the players on each team would probably be of interest.

"Chick" Ridley is in great shape, his lame back being in perfect condition, and he is ready to play the game of his life. The punting duel that will ensue between Captain Leach, of the Volunteers, and Ridley should be one well worth seeing. If both can hold his own in this punting duel, the fighting will develop in the rushing ability of the teams. McColloum, the Tennessee full back, is a better back than Ridley, as far as line plunging is concerned, but, as Ridley's work will be compared with Captain Leach's, John Davis had better be lined up against McColloum, and with this comparison the Tech man should have the better of it. Peery and Parrish, the respective left half backs, are about an even break. Robert is the better of Saxton at quarter back. So much for the back field.

At the wing positions, Hightower is about the best of the end men, with White of Tennessee classing up next. Emerson and Weisenberg are about an even break. Dougherty at right guard for Tennessee is the best man in the line for either team from tackle to tackle, with Green, the Tech tackle, ranking second. The rest of the line men are about evenly matched, although the Tennessee men will probably line up better on account of their experience and superior weight; but what the Yellow Jackets lack in weight they will make up in aggressiveness, and the Volunteers are sure to have their hands full before the game is through.

From any angle that you take the dope, it looks about an even break now. Whoever wins the game will win by a close margin, and, what's more, every inch of ground will be stubbornly fought by both teams, and when the whistle blows at the end of the second half it is not a bad guess to say that those who attended the game will join in saying that it was one of the prettiest and fiercest scraps yet seen on an Atlanta gridiron.

The line-up will be as follows:

TECH.	Position.	TENN.
Emerson or Ayres	L. E.	Weisenberg
Green	L. T.	Brown
McPhaul	L. G.	Franklin
Spalding	C.	Walters
Patterson or Rogers	R. G.	Dougherty
Means	R. T.	Swafford
Hightower	R. E.	White
Robert (Capt.)	Q. B.	Saxon
Davis	R. H. B.	(Capt.) Leach
Parrish	L. H. B.	Peery
Ridley	F. B.	McColloum

The officials have not yet been definitely decided upon, but it is thought that George Butler, of North Carolina, whose work in the Alabama-Tech game was of uch high order, will be one of them.

DOPE ON THE WEATHER FOR THE COMING MONTH

Dope on the weather for November:

For the past thirty years the average for the mean or normal temperature has been 51.4 degrees. The warmest November was in 1902, with average temperature of 58 degrees; the coldest in 1901, with an average of 47. The average precipitation for the month has been 3.36 inches. The average number of clear days has been 12; partly cloudy, 9; cloudy, 9. The prevailing wind has been from the northwest, with an average hourly velocity of 10.7 miles. That's about all.

VANDY READY FOR MICHIGAN

Commodores Had Final Workout Yesterday---Both Teams Confident.

The battle on the gridiron at Ann Arbor this afternoon between Michigan and Vanderbilt should be one of the fiercest waged contests of the year. Both teams are on edge for the battle and both are confident that when the whistle blows at the end of the second half they will be the victor.

Coach McGugin, of Vanderbilt, drilled his men in hard scrimmage games up through Wednesday night on their home gridiron at Dudley field, the principal work being taken up formulating defensive plays that are counted on to break up the Michigan formations.

The Commodores left Nashville early Thursday morning, the following men being taken in the squad: Captain Blake, Hasslock, McLain, Metzger, Morrison, Morton, McGehee, Williams, Hager, Freeland and Powell for the regular team, and Ross, Covington, Neeley, Griffin and Crawford for emergency roles. The team arrived in Ann Arbor yesterday afternoon and had a final work-out before the game, and every man on the team is said to be ready and fit.

"Hurry Up" Yost, the Wolverine coach, has sent his men through some gruelling practice during the past week. On Thursday and Friday the gates of Ferry field were closed, and the squad went through secret practice, every regular player being in the line-up of the 'varsity with the exception of Captain Schultze, who has not been feeling any too good and with whom no chances were taken of having him injured before the game today.

Chief Commodore McGugin is not very optimistic over the outlook of the game today, saying that he does not believe his team has a chance to win, but, then, Dan must not be taken seriously when he talks in that vein, for he is sure to have something up his sleeve in reserve which he does not care to give out.

Coach Yost is not underestimating his opponents in the least, and has been drilling that into his players, making the Wolverines all the more determined to play the game of their lives this afternoon.

Any way you look at it, the game is sure to be a corker. Both teams can be counted on to fight their hardest to win the battle, and the turning point of the game will be the punting battle between Allerdice and Blake. Whoever is the best in the punting game will probably lead his team to a victory, although if they are about even, the rush game, coupled with forward passes, will have to decide it, and it is doubtful if either team has the best of it along these lines.

TECH FRESHMEN PLAY G. M. A. TEAM

The Tech Freshmen will play the Georgia Military Academy football team at Ponce de Leon Saturday afternoon as a preliminary to the Tennessee-Tech scrap.

The game will commence at 2:30 o'clock sharp in order to have it over before the regular game, which starts at 3 o'clock.

This game should be as fiercely fought as the regular game, and as a preliminary game a better one could not have been secured. Both teams are counting on victory, and every inch of ground will be stubbornly contested.

ASSOC. FOOTBALLISTS HOLD PRACTICE TODAY

The association football candidates for the regular Atlanta team are requested to meet Manager Harland this afternoon at Piedmont park for practice preparatory to the game with Stone Mountain on the following Saturday.

BIG FOOTBALL GAME TODAY

Brown House, Macon, Ga., October 30.—(Special.)—Every detail of arrangement for the Georgia-Mercer football game has been made and both teams are resting tonight for the fray tomorrow afternoon on the field at Central City park. Much speculation has already gained circulation, and friends of the two college aggregations are keen in their interest. What the results will be, few people have dared predict, but Georgia enthusiasts are claiming everything.

Blake's men have not been in a game since the fray with Auburn, two weeks ago. They have kept up their practice, but have been disappointed that they have not had a real battle in so long a period of time. There is plenty of confidence, however, and the Mercer team will go on the field with the strong support of three hundred or more rooters. There will be Georgia rooters and a number of the colleges will be represented. More than 1,000 college students will be in Macon on account of the affair, and it will be the greatest football event in the history of the community from many standpoints.

DAVIS ELECTED TEAM CAPTAIN

At a meeting of the captains of the basketball teams at the conclusion of the game at the Atlantic Athletic Club Thursday night, C. S. Davis was elected to succeed Nat Thornton as captain of one of the teams, Mr. Thornton having handed in his resignation owing to pressure of other matters, which prevented his entire time being given to his team.

Mr. Davis, who is familiarly known as "Coke," is one of the most popular men in the club, and under his leadership the team should play winning ball. He will reorganize the team and will be prepared by next Thursday night to give as good as is sent him when his team meets its first opponent.

Although it has not been definitely decided, it is probable that the games will be played in double-headers every Thursday night, instead of one game on Tuesday and one on Thursday.

No game will be played Tuesday night, as was previously announced, owing to the election, but a double bill will be pulled off on Thursday. The large attendance of ladies at the game Thursday night demonstrated that there are quite a few basketball fanesses in Atlanta, and their presence at the games make them go off with plenty of ginger, for some fair maiden usually has her "knight of basketball"

"PINCHER" BROWN DEAD.

New York, October 30.—Edward Brown, once famed as a ball player, and more recently a member of the police department, from which he was retired five years ago with the rank of captain, succumbed to an attack of apoplexy last night at the home of his son in Brooklyn. Brown, who was 71 years old, enjoyed the appellation of "Pincher" Brown in the heyday of his baseball glory. Under that sobriquet he was known throughout the country as one of the bright particular stars of the Brooklyn team of a generation ago.

Uncle Remus's--- The Home Magazine

If you like fine stories and pictures, you won't be satisfied 'till you have bought a copy of Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for November.

FOR NOVEMBER

It is one of the handsomest magazines on the news-stands this month. Not only that—it is brimming with just the sort of stories, poems, special articles and illustrations that go to make the real family periodical. There's something in it to interest and entertain every member of the household—no matter how large it may be. If you have children—and you are blessed if you have—then you couldn't make them enjoy themselves more than by taking home a copy of Uncle Remus's. Better still—why not send in a dollar and get the magazine delivered at your door every month for a year? You can't spend a dollar to better advantage.

MASTERPIECE BY HENRY HUTT

From cover to cover, this month's number offers a tempting array of good things for magazine readers. The cover design, by the way, is by that master craftsman, Henry Hutt, whose paintings of fair women have won him a reputation that is international. The beautiful debutante who smiles at you from the front cover of Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine, is the personification of grace and beauty. The design is such a good one that you might like to cut it out and hang it on the wall of your den.

POEM BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Then there's a charming poem called "The Sea Wind," by Joel Chandler Harris, which is quite the most musical bit of verse that has been printed in a long time. It is quaint, dreamy-like, and simply breathes the very essence of love and—sea breezes.

This poem shows Mr. Harris at his best, and proves him a master of rhythmical, sympathetic verse. Nothing from his pen is likely to win more favor than "The Sea Wind," which is illustrated with a dashing full page picture in colors, which fits into the spirit of the thought expressed by the author.

"THE SILENCE OF THE WHISTLE"

In "The Silence of the Whistle," Julian Harris, the new editor of the magazine, has written one of the strongest heart-interest stories that has appeared in any of the current periodicals. This is the first fiction from the pen of Mr. Harris that has been printed in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine, but it shows him to be a writer of virility and resource. The story has to do with the great sorrow of a wealthy woman, whose whole nature is changed by the loss of her child. The narrative deals with the dissolution of her selfish nature, resulting in a generous and successful effort by her in behalf of a colony of poor people, who are rendered desperate by the shuttin g down of a great cotton factory. "The Silence of the Whistle" is really the chronicle of a soul—a woman's intimate self—and so well is it told that you seem to feel every movement of the change wrought in the chief character's nature. Herbert E. Summers has done some splendid pictures for the story.

THE DEADLY SLEUTH STORY

You'd have to go a long way before finding a more amusing story than "The Weirdly Thrilling Adventure of the Lost Bathing Suit," by Linton C. Hopkins. It is a sparkling satire upon a certain brand of detective stories, and the reader will be convulsed with laughter as soon as he gets into the midst of the yarn. Robert J. Dean has drawn two capital pictures to illustrate the text.

HA'NTED BY AN OLD CAT

Now, it is common knowledge that the negroes are superstitious, and many stories have been written about this peculiarity of the race, but few writers have seen the humorous side of the question in such a clever way as has Martha Burtchaell, whose "Back to the Normal," a short story centering about a "ha'nt"-be-pestered colored woman and a common house cat, is remarkable for its faithfulness to life. It is a rattling good yarn, well written and containing a wealth of amusing incidents. The pictures accompanying it could not be better.

A FINE THANKSGIVING TALE

Apropos of Thanksgiving-time, Mary E. Bryan has written a charming little story called "Miss Briggs's Star Lodger." It is a thumb-nail sketch of a lovable spinster who tries to be crabbed and cross, but fails most dismally, and instead of eating her Thanksgiving dinner alone, as she thought she would, why she has five persons around the table, and Miss Briggs is the happiest one there. You'll feel better-natured when you've read this story; it's brief, but goes right to the spot.

CHARGES, COUNTER- AND OVER-

Of course, everybody is talking politics, because the national election day is at hand, but it remains for Don Marquis, in his "A Glance in Passing" department—which is a prime feature of the Magazine from month to month—to discuss the Presidential campaign in a manner quite different from any writer who has tackled the subject thus far. He comments, freely and skeptically, upon the charges and the counter-charges made by the leaders of the two Old Parties, and illuminates his discussion with a whimsical pome dedicated to "The Friendless Octopus." When you read Mr. Marquis's comment you'll be able—whether Democrat or Republican—to understand several things about the campaign which you hadn't understood.

SOUTHERNER'S AID TO HUMANITY

It is certain that few persons know that it was a Southern physician who invented mechanical refrigeration. That Dr. John Gorrie, of Apalachicola, Fla., as early as 1845, had an ice-machine in successful operation is a fact amply demonstrated by George D. Lowe, in an article which he contributes to the November number of the magazine. But Dr. Gorrie was not seeking fame and fortune when he devised means for turning water into ice. He wrought to relieve the suffering of fever patients who tossed upon beds of agony in the hospitals of the Florida seaport town. No more interesting account of any invention has found its way into print than Mr. Lowe's story of this obscure doctor who labored in the interest of humanity. The article is finely illustrated.

THE SAD STORY OF A TEACHER

The Children's Department appeals this month to the youngsters and grown-ups alike. The Zotwots and their pet, the soulful Jay-fowl, play an important part. They force a crabbed teacher to add up an unheard of column of figures, and prove it by rule just because she hadn't been nice to her pupils. The verse and picture which Artist Robert J. Dean has constructed to tell the story of the Zotwots—the children's friends—put you at once into friendly relations with these charming folk, who hail from Aroundaboutland.

AN "UNCLE REMUS" LETTER

The department also contains a lively letter which Joel Chandler Harris wrote to his daughter when she was attending boarding school. It is quaint, amusing and cast in such a vein of humor that it not only entertains, but points a little moral which those who read between the lines may learn and be the gainer thereby. In her department, "The Open House," Mary E. Bryan comments interestingly upon several topics that lie close to the hearts of parents and the heads of households. She points out some homely truths which will be easily recognized as important in the conduct of a well-ordered family circle.

MANY OTHER FINE FEATURES

There are other fine features in the magazine, not the least of which is the final installment of Colonel John C. Reed's intensely engaging history of the Ku Klux Klan. In the paper appearing in the November issue, Colonel Reed compares the Ku Klux to the Americans at Concord and Lexington, who attacked the British in the beginning of the war to cast off the king's yoke. He calls especial attention to the fact that during the reign of the Ku Klux there was less brutality and bloodshed than during any similar revolution of equal importance.

Be sure to get a copy of the November number and take it home to the members of your family.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

CLAIRVOYANT'S GREAT POWERS.

STARTLING THINGS TOLD BY ROSSON. SCORES OF PEOPLE HA CALLED ON THE FAMOUS CLAIRVOYANT, AND HIS REMARKAB POWERS HAVE WON GENERAL A MIRATION.

JUDGING from the crowds that are constantly waiting in the parlors of Mr. Rosson, the great Clairvoyant and Palmist, who is now at his parlors, No. 41 Houston street, the truth of his remarkable reading must have been heralded from mouth to mouth. Some of the best citizens of Atlanta have called upon him for advice and have gone away satisfied that he is truly a great clairvoyant.

MY HONEST PROPOSITION.
READ CAREFULLY.
A BONA FIDE GUARANTEE.

I do hereby solemnly agree and guarantee to make you no charge if I fail to call you by name. I promise to tell you whether your husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. I will tell you how to gain the love of the one you most desire, even though miles away. In fact, I will tell you every hope, fear or ambition better than you can tell yourself.

POSITIVELY GIVES CORRECT ADVICE.

If affairs of the heart or emotions of love interest you, he gives exact and truthful revelations of all love affairs, settles lovers' quarrels; enables you to win the esteem and affection of any one you desire; causes speedy and happy marriages; tells if the one you love is true; also date of marriage; restores lost affections, peace and confidence to lovers and discordant families; gives you the full secret how to control, fascinate and charm the one you love, also those you meet, and how to make a person at a distance think of you.

CONCERNING BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

He gives dates, facts and figures, reliable and important advice and information on all matters of interest in business transactions, law suits, contested wills, life insurance, damage suits, divorces, deeds, mortgage claims, collections, speculations, adventures and all financial difficulties. Truly predicts the success or failure of new inventions, patents, pending pension claims, etc.; tells whether you will receive fair dealings with partners. If you care to know what business you will follow to be successful, where you shall [illegible] and whom to avoid; if you intend to make any changes or start a business buy or sell property, or, in fact, take any important step, don't fail to consult Mr. Rosson. IN THE most desirable section in Inman Park, a brand-new home, high-class in every way; slate roof. This place is all right in every particular, and a great purchase for $6,750. If you want a home in Inman Park let us show you this.

ON GRADY PLACE, in West End, one of the prettiest cottage homes we have ever had to offer. Has all conveniences; full size, level lot. $3,500; terms.

ON OAK ST., near Peeples street, a new 2-story, 7-room home; all conveniences, gas and electric lights, nice level lot, best surroundings and close to new Peeples street school. We have a close price on this property, and can make reasonable terms.

IN the best residence section on West Fair street we have two pieces of property renting for $15 each; never vacant; owner tells us that there has never been any loss from these places. Remember, that these places have full 50-foot lots and that the street is paved; has car line, and all conveniences down and paid for. We recommend the purchase of these at $1,600 each to those looking for a safe and conservative investment.

ON NORTH BOULEVARD, near North avenue, we have nearing completion, an up-to-date two-story residence. We are having this house built to sell to some gentleman of good taste for a home. This place is high-class in every detail. Its number is 537; if you want something about as indicate above go out and look things over. Then come and let's see if we can't do business.

ON Gordon street, West End, we have one of the handsomest homes, which cost $18,000 to build the house; the lot is worth $8,000. We can sell this property at about half price, if taken at once, as the owner is leaving the city. We can give reasonable terms.

COTTON ACTIVE; CLOSED HIGHER

Showed Net Advance of Four to Seven Points.

Opened at Advance in Response to Higher Cables, Then Came a Break—Afterwards Wall Street Covering Caused Rally.

New York, October 30.—The cotton market was fairly active today and prices ruled higher, the close being at a net advance of 4@7 points. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales.

The market opened at an advance of 1@4 points, in response to higher cables. At first there was some little irregularity owing to the selling of October, and that position broke to a net loss of 8 points. But it maintained a premium over December, showing that the late deliveries on contract were being taken up without much trouble and later the whole market rallied on buying by Wall street, covering by people who had expected a reaction as a result of pre-election liquidation, and during the afternoon it looked as though there was some demand here for the later months from the south covering hedges. After showing a net advance of 7@9 points, the market reacted slightly under realizing and closed 2 or 3 points off from the best on the active months.

Receipts at the ports today 78,145 bales, against 72,709 last week and 42,137 last year. For the week 445,000, against 415,369 last week and 343,537 last year.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, October 30.—Cotton: Spots were quiet; low ordinary 4¾ nominal; ordinary 5 9-16 nominal; good ordinary 7; low middling 8¾; middling 9; good middling 9 5-16; middling fair 9 13-16; fair 10 7-16 nominal. Receipts 11,488; stock 166,633. Sales 950 bales on spot, 1,700 to arrive.

Futures opened steady, unchanged to 1 point up. Liverpool was slightly better than expected. Around the opening prices sagged a little, standing 1 point lower than yesterday's closing. Cablegrams from Manchester bearing optimistic opinions in regard to the settlement of the labor difficulties there were received at this time and their effect was to send prices up until they stood at a net advance of 6 to 7 points. The session was very dull after this advance. On the closing the tone was steady and the market showed a net advance of 3 to 4 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, October 30.—The cotton market is strong and prices are very firm. Large sales of wool have been made in this market during the past week. Print cloths are firmer and higher. Yarns are from 1-4 of a cent to 1-2 a cent a pound higher. Trading has been active during the day in the primary market. Tomorrow business will be virtually suspended in consequence of the business men's parade.

HESTER'S WEEKLY COTTON STATEMENT

New Orleans, October 30.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement, issued before the close of business today, shows an increase in the movement into sight, compared with the 7 days ending this date last year, in round figures, of 189,000, an increase over the same days year before last of 41,000, and an increase over the same time in 1905 of 229,000.

For the 30 days of October the totals show an increase over last year of 657,000, an increase over the same period year before last of 185,000, and an increase over the same time in 1905 of 530,000.

For the 60 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is ahead of the 60 days of last year 1,034,000, ahead of the same days year before last 409,000, and ahead of 1905 by 434,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 620,897, bales, against 432,183 for the 7 days ending this date last year, 580,243 year before last, and 391,785 same time in 1905; and for the 30 days of October it has been 2,406,776, against 1,750,221 last year, 2,222,079 year before last and 1,876,738 same time in 1903.

The movement since September 1 shows receipts at all United States ports 2,595,436, against 1,784,003 last year, 2,427,408 year before last, and 2,332,541 same time in 1905. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 161,717, against 62,897 last year, 90,684 year before last, and 86,480 same time in 1905; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 462,212, against 284,797 last year, 238,169 year before last, and 318,502 same time in 1905; southern mills' takings 406,000, against 459,853 last year, 460,346 year before last, and 454,216 same time in 1905.

These make the total movement for the 60 days of the season from September 1 to date, 3,625,465, against 2,591,550 last year, 3,216,607 year before last and 3,191,739 same time in 1905.

Foreign exports for the week have been 320,934, against 199,967 last year, making the total thus far for the season 1,701,827, against 1,109,175 last year, an increase of 592,646.

Northern mills' takings and Canada during the past 7 days show an increase of 69,256, as compared with the corresponding period last year, and their total takings since September 1 have increased 243,963. The total takings of American mills, north, south and Canada, thus far for the season, have been 891,009, against 706,734 last year. These include 481,334 by northern spinners, against 237,371.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior centers have increased during the week 135,006 bales, against an increase during the corresponding period last season of 134,260, and are now 190,335 more than at this date in 1907.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop, the supply to date is 3,906,812, against 2,939,556 for the same period last year.

Hester's World's Visible Supply Statement.

New Orleans, October 30.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton made up from special cable and telegraphic advices compares the figures of this week with last week, last year and the year before. It shows an increase for the week just closed of 283,644, against an increase of 148,966 last year, and an increase of 279,983 year before last.

The total visible is 3,280,124, against 2,996,480 last week, 3,136,681 last year and 3,280,281 year before last. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,741,124, against 2,458,480 last week, 2,369,805 last year and 2,522,281 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India etc. 539,000 against 538,000 last week, 766,876 last year and 758,000 year before last.

The total world's visible supply of cotton as above shows an increase compared with last week of 283,644, an increase compared with last year of 143,444 and a decrease compared with year before last of 157,000.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,694,000, against 1,669,000 last year and 1,495,000 year before last; in Egypt 123,000, against 133,000 last year and 119,000 lear before last; in India 149,000, against 312,000 last year and 344,000 year before last, and in the United States 1,314,000, against 1,023,000 last year and 1,322,000 year before last.

Taking of American Cotton by Spinners.

New Orleans, October 30.—Secretary Hester gives the taking of American cotton by spinners throughout the world as follows, in round numbers:

This week 338,000 this year against 269,000 last year, 313,000 year before last.

Total since September 1, this year, 1,873,000, against 1,566,000 last year, and 1,610,000 the year before.

Of this northern spinners and Canada took 481,000 bales this year, against 237,000 last year, and 292,000 the year before; southern spinners 410,000, against 469,000 last year, and 467,000 the year before; and foreign spinners 982,000, against 860,000 last year, and 851,000 the year before.

FROST DAMAGE SENT PRICES UP

Wheat Closed Up Three-Eighths to Five-Eighths.

Opening of Market Was Easy at Lower Prices—In the Last Hour Alarming Reports From Argentina Caused Advance.

Chicago, October 30.—Sensational reports of damage by frost to the Argentine crop caused a sharp bulge in wheat prices on the local exchange today, prices at the close being up 3-8 to 1-2@5-8c. Corn was steady, and oats and provisions were strong.

The wheat market opened easy, with prices 1-8@1-4 to 1-4@3-8c lower, due to unexpected weakness at Liverpool. Moderate demand by a leading elevator interest caused a slight rally during the first part of the day, but no decided strength developed until within the last hour, when sentiment became bullish, as a result of the alarming reports from Argentinna regarding the condition of the new crop of wheat. These reports brought out active covering by shorts, which caused the market to close at almost the top point of the day, with December at $1.00 1-2@1.00 5-8, and May at $1.04. The most important of these dispatches was one received from a supposedly reliable source, which placed the injury to the Argentine crop by recent frosts at 30 per cent of the entire crop. Another report estimated that the amount of wheat from this year's crop available for export will be nearly 50,000,000 bushels less than the exportable surplus of the previous crop. The market was also considerably strengthened by the cash situation in the northwest. Premiums on cash wheat at Minneapolis made further advances today, No. 1 northern selling at 3 1-2c over the December delivery. The southwest also reported a brisk demand for the cash grain, with offerings from the country much larger. Weather conditions were again favorable for the sown crop, and for the movement from the northwest. Export demand was dull. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 545,000 bushels. Exports for the week, as shown by Bradstreet's, were equal to 5,464,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 868,000 bushels, compared with 795,000 the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 492 cars, against 631 last week, and 583 a year ago.

The corn market was easy early in the day, but became firmer during the last half of the session, and closed at almost the best prices of the day. The chief factor in the situation was the continued small movement despite the favorable weather conditions. An advance of 1-2 to 1c in the price of new corn at the sample tables also had some influence. December closed a shade higher than yesterday at 63 3-4@63 7-8c. Local receipts 44 cars, 14 contract grade.

Oats displayed considerable activity and strength late in the session, and closed at gains of 1-2@5-8c, with December at 48 3-4c and May at 50 1-2c. Buying by cash interests was the chief reason for the late strength, the demand meeting with very light offerings. Local receipts 118 cars.

Provisions were rather weak early in the session because of selling based on liberal receipts of live hogs, but became firm late in the day on covering by shorts. At the close prices were 2 1-2c lower to 22 1-2c higher.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 51 cars; corn, 72 cars; oats, 114 cars; hogs, 18,000 head.

UNION PACIFIC FAVORITE STOCK

At One Time During Day Sold at 173 7-8.

Activity in That Stock Had Sympathetic Effect on Whole List. The Showing of Monthly Report Was an Extraordinary One.

New York, October 30.—The professional element in the speculation had an active day and rolled up a considerable aggregate of transactions. There was not much outside interest in the market, commission houses getting little of the day's business. Floor traders did a protentious proportion of the dealings, which were largely of the kind that Mr. Harriman, in speaking of the summer's activity in Union Pacific, described as "in a circle." There was a notable congestion of these dealings today in Union Pacific, and the movement in that stock had an important sympathetic effect on the whole list. This sympathetic response was somewhat sluggish and was quickly lost when the strength of Union Pacific itself began to wane. The movement in Union Pacific found its explanation in the earnings statement for September, which were published midway of the stock exchange session. Obviously there was advance knowledge of this statement on the part of those whose buying at the opening made a spread of ⅝ in the price of the stock, 6,500 shares of Union Pacific selling at the same time at 172⅝ and 173. Subsequently the quotation twice reached 173⅞. The showing of the monthly report was extraordinary to such a degree that it seemed to excite some suspicion and to leave the stock market heavy and uncertain upon its publication. The 54 per cent increase in net earnings over last year at this time when the railroads have scarcely emerged from the depression which overwhelmed them early in the year, makes a brilliant contrast. Something must be allowed for the unfavorable effect on last year's September net earning of the swelling operating cost, the Union Pacific reporting a falling off in net at that time of upward of $500,000, compared with the preceding year. The heavy operating cost at that time affects the comparison with the expense item this year, also which is reduced nearly $1,000,000. The road's increase of $464,359 in gross earnings shows it unusually fortunate in its proportion of the returning activity of railroad traffic. With all these allowances made, however, the proportion of expenses to gross earnings, which amounts to less than 47 per cent with the taxes included, represents a degree of efficiency in earning power which carries no conviction of a permanent condition. The whole market turned on this incident. Other developments were little regarded. A sharp downward movement in foreign exchange rates was attributed to the filling of the requirement for remittance to cover the maturing New York city revenue bonds held in London, with some after effects of a speculation in exchange based on this requirement. Money on call was distinctly firmer here, rising to 2 per cent during the day. The November settlements are given the responsibility for this, although the demands of the speculation may be associated with it. The currency movement with the interior has been in favor of New York again this week, but the withdrawal on subtreasury operations leaves a balance on the side of loss in the cash exchange of a few hundred thousand dollars. There was intimations of a New York city bond issue next month, which will certainly be supplemented by important corporations borrowing. An advance in the price of copper was an incident of the day.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $5,812,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NORTH SIDE

In the very best and newest part of the north side, on Williams street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, I have recently constructed three beautiful eight-room, two-story houses, on large, beautiful, elevated and shaded lots, with all modern conveniences. All walls and ceilings are decorated, floors waxed and polished. I am offering these homes on very liberal terms and at a special price. The street is now being cherted and when completed will be one of the prettiest in the city.

In another section of the north side, I am offering an attractive home on a lot 80x190 feet, with east front, at a special price and can give reasonable terms.

Bradstreet's Trade Review.

New York, October 30.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Unsettled weather and preelection quiet are in evidence this week as affecting trade at a great many cities. Except at Chicago and New York, where some good business has been done in wholesale lines for spring, first and second hand distribution has been confined to filling-in and immediate shipment proportions. Current distribution as a whole is still reported below last year at the corresponding date, except at a few points in the northwest.

"The clothing trade is rather quiet as a whole, being affected by past prevailing weather, but men's wear woolen reorders for spring are reported better, and there has been the largest week's business in raw wool done this year at Boston. There is a better tone in the footwear trade, rainy weather having helped. Eastern manufacturers, however, report medium and low-priced goods most in demand. Industry is fairly well employed, though the low stage of water in streams affects manufacturing from the Alleghenies eastward to the coast, especially in cokemaking, coal mining and paper and textile manufacturing. Pig iron is quiet and weaker at Pittsburg, but more active at eastern markets, and mild weather restricts demand for coal the country over.

"Finished iron reports are of more doing in the placing of actual specifications for industrial and railway work, but rails are still neglected. The grocery trade reports fair activity on quick order business.

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending October 29 number 239 against 231 last week and 223 in the like week of 1907.

"Failures in Canada for the week number 32 against 31 last week and 28 in this week last year.

"Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending October 29 aggregate 5,463,714 bushels against 6,127,992 last week and 5,792,249 this week last year. For the eighteen weeks ending October 29 this year the exports are 73,814,482 bushels against 68,267,814 in the corresponding period last year.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, October 30.—Liverpool was better than due this morning. Weather conditions were considered favorable, though temperatures were moderately low. Our market opened a shade higher on the cables and hung around the opening figures with small transactions mostly of an evening up nature due to the near approach of election. The reappearance of the customary strike settlement rumor enabled local traders to bid the market up 7 points when some scattered realizing and southern selling checked the advance, the market again relapsing into stagnation. The facts about the Manchester situation are that another conference will be held tomorrow that any attempt to forecast the result is pure guess work, but that each conference has found the operatives weaker, so that chances each time are greater in favor of some sort of agreement. The movement continues heavy into sight this week, being 606,000 bales, and these receipts, with the relatively easy interior markets attracted increased consideration in the cotton trade itself, particularly in the south. October passed off the boards without excitement.
